On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. The gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, has requested me to say a word in explanation of this bill, and inasmuch as it relates to the conditions in several of the school districts of the State, there may be others that have the same interest in the matter. You will recall that in 1921 the Teachers' Salary Bill provided that the State should appropriate a certain sum of money towards the basic salary of each teacher; but in 1923 it was found that that method interfered with proper budget making, because between 1921 and 1923 there was an increase in the number of teachers and the money that was appropiated in 1921 was not sufficient to meet that increase, and, therefore, in 1923 we passed a second Act that provided that the appropriation for teachers should be made on a two-year basis, on the basis of the number of teachers in November of the even years proceeding, so that on the basis of the number of teachers in November 1922, the appropriations were made for 1923 and 1924. Now, in practice, that has been found to be unfair to those districts where the population has increased greatly and where in the two-year period it might be necessary to have a large increase in the number of teachers. You can readily see in those districts if the appropriation was made on the basis of the number of teachers in November, 1922, and then the population increased in 1923 and 1924, they would not be getting the same pro rata as other districts in the State. To meet that situation this bill has been prepared, which proposes in the next biennium, out of the appropriation that is made the first quarter of 1927, it will pay back to the school districts their ratio for the increased number of teachers that are made necessary in the preceding two years. That makes it possible now to make an exact appropriation on the basis of the number of teachers in November, 1924; then, if there is an increase in 1925 and 1926, the next Legislature will appropriate back to the school districts their share for the increased number of teachers. That is the object of the bill, and it seems to be a more equitable method of making the apportionment than that which prevailed under the law of 1923.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—192.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Huntingdon.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Huntingdon permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BREWSTER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I desire to ask the gentleman if he did not promise me to amend this bill, that the Department pay the money into the treasury?

Mr. BREWSTER. Repeat that question, I did not get it.

Mr. ALEXANDER.. I ask the sponsor if he did not promise me, when this bill was brought out, to amend it so as to require the Department to pay the money into the treasury?

Mr. BREWSTER. I think you are mistaken. I made no promise of the kind. I was perfectly willing for it to be submitted to the committee. It was submitted to the committee, and they have made the amendments to it with that eliminated. The committee were of the opinion, just like I was of the opinion, that with that amendment in it, we might as well not have had any bill at all. There are few amendments that you submitted that are still here. The bill has been amended with the exception of the one which required the payment of the money into the State Treasury, and the committee were not in favor of that, just as I am not in favor of it. You might as well not have the bill here at all as to submit it to the House with that amendment in it, and the committee thought so and they so reported this bill. It was discussed very thoroughly in the committee, and they were unanimous, there was not a dissenting voice in the committee in regard to cutting that out which would kill the whole spirit of the bill. You might as well not have the bill here.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill, I think, was defeated once, if not twice. We agreed to reconsider the vote by which it was defeated, and the gentleman promised that he would agree that these funds which would be received by these departments would be paid into the State treasury. I cannot understand the idea some people have about selling things. It is strange to me that we cannot follow the practice of this Commonwealth back as far at least as the beginning of the present constitution in 1874. The gentleman says we might as well not have any bill. All right, I would rather not have any bill than to permit these different administrative heads to sell the stock off their farms, and sell anything they believe they did not want or did not need, and place that money under their own control instead of going into the treasury of the Commonwealth. No administrative head or department under the Constitution is permitted to spend one dollar that has not been first appropriated to them by this Legislature. We now have the budget which sets out definitely what each administrative head, department or bureau needs, and the Appropriation Committee with that budget before them settles upon the appropriation to these different departments, the amount of money they need. Now here comes a bill that after you have appropriated to a department sufficient money, we will say for illustration, to stock that farm with cows, we will say Rockview, because I have that in mind at the present time, and they will say, "Well we don't need some of these cows and we will sell them and use that money to pay salaries", after you have already appropriated money to pay those salaries. And then they come along for another appropriation to buy some more cows, and I want to know how, under the sun, anyone is going to keep tab on the amount of an appropriation that any department is going to require. This bill permits them to put the money in their own clothes instead of going into the treasury of this Commonwealth. Surely no one is afraid that the treasurer is going to run away with it; the treasurer gives sufficient bond for all of these funds. What is back of this? Why is it? Why is it that they promise to you that they will do a thing of this kind, and without saying anything to you try to sneak this bill through with that provision out of it? There must be some motive back of it: there must be some reason why they want to get hold of this extra money, and I ask every man and woman in this House to vote against the bill.

Mr. BREWSTER. The gentleman from Delaware does not just exactly state the provisions of this bill. It refers only to the surplus of the products raised on the farms of these institutions. Now, he refers to the appropriations, that these institutions are receiving appropriations. I am going to tell you that we have some of his citizens of Delaware county up in our little institution in Huntingdon county, and Delaware county helps to pay for keeping them there, and if a boy is sent from any county from this Commonwealth, they help pay for the upkeep of this institution, just the same as Huntingdon county pays to send a prisoner to the Western Penitentiary. It is the county's money, not the State's money, that helps to keep up these institutions.

Now, Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, it is not a matter of simply paying this money into the State treasury. It is too small and trivial almost to consider, in my estimation. Just like I told Mr. Alexander the other day, I have a little boy fourteen years old, and he went out and shovelled snow for the neighbors last winter, and they gave him a quarter. I said, "What kind of a daddy would I be if I said to that boy when he come home, 'No, John, you must put that money down in daddy's pocket, it must go through the regular course?'" I said to Mr. Alexander, "You would kick me out of the House," and so he would; and that is just exactly the situation here. These institutions have boys, and some institutions have girls, who earn a little money. There is a little surplus here. Send that in here to the State treasury through the regular course? What do you think of an institution like that? Cannot he trust the Board of Managers to say, buy a few books for the library with that money or appropriate it to some work right in the institution? That is the argument that I make, and I ask you ladies and gentlemen to support this bill. It is a good measure, and every institution in this State wanted it, and why he is opposing it, I do not know.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Haines,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 465, entitled:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 814, entitled:

An Act to further amend section twenty of the act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and twenty) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, with reference to House Bill No. 814, while from the title it looks like a tax bill, it is not; it is merely changing the procedure with reference to corporation reports. The corporations that report on the annual year from January 1st to December 31st, the Auditor General is given power to give them sixty days additional in which to file their reports, if they show cause, but a corporation that reports on the fiscal year from July 1st to July 1st, the Auditor General is not given the power to grant it any extension, even if they have a perfectly proper reason for asking for that extension. Consequently, this bill has been prepared to meet that circumstance. It makes no change in taxes or in tax rates, but it authorizes the Auditor General to grant an extension of sixty days to those corporations which report on a fiscal year.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Game for the purpose of a hearing.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 600, entitled:

An Act imposing a tax for State purposes on marine insurance underwriting profits and providing for the collection of such tax

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say a few words with reference to House Bill No. 600, which is a tax bill recommended by the Tax Commission. In our public hearings a great deal of attention was directed to the advisability of developing marine insurance in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We do very little marine insurance at the present time, and the companies pay a tax of two percent on gross premiums, the State receiving only $55,000 from it. They pointed out the reason why our State did not get very much marine insurance and the reason given is, that the insurance is written in competition with England and Germany, and in England and Germany the tax is rated on the net profits rather than on the gross premiums. Our insurance companies say that if you will tax them on the net profit rather than on the gross premiums we could then hope, in some way, to equal the rates quoted abroad. We made inquiry in the matter and found out that that principle had been accepted by the Federal Congress because, a few years ago, Congress passed the Marine Insurance Act in which the tax was shifted from the gross premium to the net profit. This bill defines what marine insurance is and provides for the payment of five percent, not two percent, on net profits. We believe that if we shift the form of taxes that you will give encouragement to a new industry of considerable importance particularly in Philadelphia where we are hoping to develop a port, and we think that by presenting a tax in this new form we will be giving an opportunity for this business itself to develop. That is the reason for the bill and we hope from that point of view it may commend itself to the members of the House.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Acting PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (F. E. Baldwin)

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 164, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act approved the twenty-fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws one thousand one hundred thirty-one) entitled "An Act to regulate the practice of the profession of engineering and of land surveying creating a State Board for the Registration of Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors defining its powers and duties imposing certain duties upon the Commonwealth and political subdivisions thereof in connection with public work and providing penalties"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, this is the bill repealing the Engineers' Licensing Act. The bill licensing engineers and surveyors was passed in 1921, and has been in operation four years. During that time about thirty-one hundred out of, I think, sixteen thousand engineers in Pennsylvania have been registered. In the session of 1922-23 the act was repealed by the Senate and the House by a large majority. The Governor saw fit to veto the repealer, and in that veto message he signified his doubt of the expediency of the act by intimating that it needed amendment.

The promoters of the bill have had two years in which to formulate such amendment. I have here the signatures of over ten thousand people asking that this act be repealed, and the engineers themselves, who are now registered, request the same thing. I have numerous letters that are substantially like this:

"I do not believe that competent engineers feel the necessity of any such trade union protection fostered by the State, nor do I think that the incompetent ones are likely to be weeded out and prevented from practicing by such registration regulation."

The bill was bad in its inception. It had its origin some place in the west, and has been gradually spread over the various States throughout the east. I find that it has been fully as bad in its administration.

The bill is useless for the purpose for which it was enacted. It is unfair in its provisions,—in allowing registered engineers to practice engineering in all the over two hundred varieties of work engineers are called upon to do. It assumes to corral and to corner practically all the activities of man except, perhaps, the practice of medicine. It says that "engineers" means "all who initiate and investigate, plan and regulate the control of the forces, and the utilization of the materials, of Nature and all human activities in connection therewith for the benefit of man."

In one fell swoop it would attempt to corner nearly all the activities of mankind, and attempt to stifle the indicator of engineering purposes. It is not wanted by the engineers belonging to the great engineering societies. We have our engineering societies, where it is a credit for any man who has attained distinction in his profession to belong, but I believe, with the engineer, the eminent engineer, who has given me this letter, that as a Pennsylvanian he should not be under the ban of a law like this.

And the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 333, entitled:

An Act to amend section eighteen article one of chapter three of an act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 312) entitled "An act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs"

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. President, I feel that this bill, in its present form, should not be passed. It makes it necessary to procure, in the event of annexing territory to a borough,—to procure the vote of a majority of the people of the entire township in favor of that annexation; and it would practically prohibit the annexation of any territory to a borough. I feel that is not as it should be.

I feel it would interfere, at least in my county, with any annexation scheme on the part of the citizens of any township that would want to get into a borough. For instance, in our township, with an assessed valuation of ten or fifteen million dollars, it would be impossible to obtain the favor of these people for that purpose; and I feel that this bill ought to be defeated.

Mr. STITES. Mr. President, as this bill was reached on the calendar I was about to move that it go over in its order, so that it might be amended to meet the objection of some whose toes may be stepped on.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMENDED.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 368, entitled:

An Act to amend section four hundred and ten (c) of an act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 682) entitled "An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws" permitting the exception from incontestability of provisions relative to benefits in the event of total and permanent disability and provisions which grant additional insurance specifically against death by accident be recommitted to the Committee on Insurance for a hearing.

Mr. CULBERTSON. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 422, (House Bill No. 61), entitled:

An Act relating to jurors excusing from jury duty women over sixty-five years of age and mothers of children under the age of five years

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend section 1, line 8, by striking out the word "shall" and inserting in lieu thereof, the word "may".

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CULBERTSON: Mr. President, when this bill, No. 472, was first presented there were a number of objections to it. However, they have now all been cured by amendment, or, at least, have been clarified by amendment. The one amendment provides that this Act will not take effect until the 1st of January, 1926; and the other by a proviso it will not relate to or affect retailers. All the manufacturers, and importers, and the agricultural interests of the State, as well as the State Department of Agriculture, favor the enactment of this bill.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 1000, (House Bill No. 1040), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to close out the affairs of the Mercer State Hospital at Mercer Pennsylvania by authorizing the sale and conveyance of the real estate and personal property of said hospital and making an appropriation

There was an appropriation made to this hospital, and I have not discovered how the money was spent. As I am responsible for the people's money, I believe I am doing my duty in investigating this bill further.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I should be glad to have the Senator investigate, and get all the information he wishes. I do not object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears no objection.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1026, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Highways to purchase material necessary for the construction of highways and sell the same to contractors engaged in the construction of State Highways or State-aid Highways or any highway being constructed under the supervision of with the approval of the Department of Highways and providing the method for reimbursement to the Commonwealth.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, whether this bill does not put the State of Pennsylvania in business, in the way of becoming a purchasing agent,—with all the troubles that might come to it through its inability to collect bills from people who are not able to carry through their contracts.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, in answer to the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, I would say that this bill No. 1026, is a bill sponsored by the State Highway Department for the purpose, as explained to me by the Secretary of Highways, of permitting the State to take advantage of the wholesale rates on the purchase of cement, in order that the State may contract for large quantities of cement to carry out its road-building program, and to insert in its contracts, or specifications for bids, that that cement may be had at a given figure.

I am told by the Secretary of Highways that during the next biennium this bill would save the Highway Department from two hundred thousand to three hundred thousand dollars per annum. I do not know whether I have answered the Senator's question specifically.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, further, whether the Highway Department does not already have the right to purchase in wholesale lots under the present law.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, possibly it has for work it is going to do itself, but this is for work it is going to let out on contract, in the regular course of business, to contractors. Undoubtedly the State has the right to purchase materials for use in work to be done by itself, but in this case it is not for work it is going to do itself, but to furnish this cement principally, it could be other materials, I presume—to the contractor at the wholesale rate, in order that he may know he is going to get cement, or other building materials, at a certain figure, and thus cut out the middleman who makes the commission on the sale of all this cement, between the price fixed by the factory and the price paid by the contractor.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, that is the point. I think the Senator has brought out that the State is becoming a competitor against its own citizens in carrying on this work. I do not think that is fair.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, if the Senator desires to consider the bill further, I would be very glad to have it put over or postponed, or recommitted.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I have no desire to have the bill recommitted.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, if the proposition of purchasing cement for contractors were put into effect, then why should you not go all the way down the line and purchase their trucks, sand, gravel, and crushed stone.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, as I understand it, the contractor could not get any cheaper rate in buying his trucks, or some other materials or equipment for road building; but I understand this is a peculiar situation, with practically a fixed rate at the factory and a fixed rate for cement sold to the contracting trade; and in order to save the State the profit between the factory and the contractor this bill is proposed.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, again I would like to ask the Senator: As we know, under the Constitution the State cannot go into the manufacturing business and yet it wants to control the cement business.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would not say it wants to control the cement business; it wants to save the State the useless profit that is paid to some one between the factory and the contractor.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, there is no competition, then, in the cement business?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I have not any doubt that there is competition, but it is a sort of controlled competition, as I understand it.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, then why would not the anti-trust laws of the United States govern and control it?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I am inclined to think they should, but it is not our function to go into that.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I have just been informed that the cement business will not sell cement to any except dealers. I do not understand that the State of Pennsylvania is a dealer, and I do not see how the Highway Department could take advantage of this provision even if the bill went through. There is a differential of ten cents, as I understand it, that the State of Pennsylvania could not get under the rules of sales of the cement companies, unless the State of Pennsylvania became a dealer.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. BUCKMAN. In order that the matter may be further considered and looked into, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, in the last few minutes I have informed the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, that this is a good bill. This is one of the State owned hospitals to which we must make an annual appropriation to keep up, and we now have a chance to sell it to a high grade physician and surgeon. This is the unanimous desire of the people of our community. It nets us $15,000 with which to pay a deficit of $5000. In other words it is a source of income and not an outlay. I hope the Senate will pass this bill.

And the question recurring,

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McCaig, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCAIG. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. EDMONDS. I should like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny as to what is the total appropriation covered by this general appropriation bill?

Mr. McCAIG. $78,762,012.67.

Mr. EDMONDS. Thank you. Now, I would like to ask further with reference to the items for the support of the public schools which are set forth in the pages beginning with 15 and running to 22. I notice in these items, with respect to the public schools, that there has been a series of cuts in the budget items which aggregate approximately $7,000,000. I would like to ask specifically whether or not those cuts have been based upon any study of the problem of the items or are simply general cuts?

Mr. McCAIG. The committee made a study of the bill and the past records of amounts expended for this purpose and with that end in view the cuts were made. The schools are now receiving $2,500,000 more than they received two years ago.

Mr. EDMONDS. May I ask the gentleman with reference to the last item to the public school appropriation, which is for reimbursing school districts upon the salaries of the school teachers as required by law and for closed schools as required by law for the two fiscal years and so forth, $40,000,000, which is a cut of $1,910,000.

Mr. McCAIG. This is a $1,200,000 more than two years ago.

Mr. EDMONDS. May I ask whether or not the gentleman considered that there are 3,729 school teachers more than there were two years ago and whether the amount that he has there planned for the appropriation is sufficient to take care of any increases in the teachership.

Mr. McCAIG. So far as the records go we have felt that this amount will cover it.

Mr. EDMONDS. Have you any figures, may I ask Mr. Speaker, which show that the $40,000,000 which has there been assigned to that item will cover what the State has promised towards the salaries of 53,072 public school teachers whose names were reported as of November 1st, 1924.

Mr. McCAIG. We have not. They have never been furnished us.

Mr. EDMONDS. Then that is really a capricious cut—I mean that has been made without any study of the problem inasmuch as the law requires state funds to be used to pay state teachers.

Mr. McCAIG. Only on the basis of the increase.

Mr. EDMONDS. May I ask also, Mr. Speaker, with reference to the items on page 20 and 21, which is the whole group of items included under the item payment of salaries and expenses of the county and assistant county superintendent, cut down from $4,030,000 to $3,030,000, may I ask if that cut of $1,000,000 represents some function which is now to be given up by the State.

Mr. McCAIG. I will answer that by saying that this item is an increase of $325,000 over two years ago. It is a blanket item in the budget.

Mr. EDMONDS. I understand that the item of $4,030,000 which was presented in the budget includes the following: county superintendents $507,000; notice of election of county superintendents $1,000; assistant county superintendents $645,000; vocational reimbursements $1,110,000; education, blind pupils, $8,000; blind institution higher learning, $8,000; transportation, $1,000,000; State scholarships, $56,000; reimbursement school districts closed, $684,000; Cornplanter Indians, $1,800; taxes on land for water conservation, $5,200; children placed by courts, $14,000, or a total of $4,030,000. Now, when the item is cut down $3,030,000 which of those activities are to stand the cut?

Mr. McCAIG. On what page of the budget will we find that item?

Mr. EDMONDS. The total is given on page 7; the items themselves I think are not given there. All the items I have obtained from the budget officers.

Mr. McCAIG. The totals are given here but not itemized.

Mr. EDMONDS. The items I have obtained, I say, upon inquiry from the budget officers.

Mr. McCAIG. They were not supplied to this committee.

Mr. EDMONDS. The point I would like to make, if I may ask the gentleman from Allegheny further, is this:

We have a series of state laws whereby the state agrees to do certain things for the maintenance of public schools. We have also a series of computations which are based upon exact figures of what the state is assuming. Now, when those figures are cut down in the aggregate, what is the intention of the budget, is it intended that some of the activities are to be given up? If so, which? Is it intended that the salaries of the teachers are to be cut down? If so, how? Is it intended that the state shall give less to the public schools? If so, how much shall it give? In other words what is the plan which leads to cutting down these items in the aggregate I have mentioned in so far as it is going to affect the details of the existing law?

Mr. McCAIG. I would say that that would be at the discretion of the department, that the figures have never been submitted to us as we never have been consulted.

Mr. EDMONDS. But, Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will allow me further to interrogate him, in all the school districts, 53,000 school teachers, there is nothing there that the department has discretion, is it your thought that the department will pay the school teachers in Lancaster County and not in York.

Mr. McCAIG. Then I would say that the committee should have been supplied the figures, not a blanket item.

Mr. EDMONDS. I cannot answer the question as to whether or not the committee had such information. I obtained it. I will say that it seems to me that it is embarking upon a dangerous fiscal policy when we appropriate $40,000,000 for what we know is going to cost $42,000,000, unless we change the existing law.

Mr. McCAIG. We took the budget for our basis of knowledge and past experiences in making appropriations.

Mr. EDMONDS. I am very much obliged to the gentleman from Allegheny, and I want to say that I appreciate, as I think every member of this House does, the time and the energy and the devotion which the gentleman from Allegheny has given to this work. I myself, not only at this session but in past sessions, have had cause to profit greatly by his experience and knowledge, partly particularly with reference to certain of the welfare and state aid institutions. He has devoted a tremendous amount of time to this work. I am not here to criticise this bill in detail, but I am here to say very emphatically that in my judgment the public school appropriation is not adequate, and it can only be made in this way, either on the basis of changing the laws relating to public schools, or else upon the basis of planning for a deficiency two years hence. How on earth can you come out when you have 53,000 school teachers certified in November, 1924, and you have a state law which says that you, the state, are going to pay so much of their salaries. When you multiply the two items you get $41,900,000, and you appropriate $40,000,000; what is going to happen to the $1,900,000? Obviously what is going to happen is that when the fourth quarter comes the teachers will not get their full money and we are going to have a deficiency appropriation. Now, I think the same thing is true with reference to the other items that aggregate $4,030,000. You can not cut down the money without striking out some of the work you must cut out some of the items of work and that means a change in the existing law, or else not have money enough to do the work properly. Now, I can say from my point of view that this public school work that we do is frankly the most important of all of the functions of the state. Go back even to the time of William Penn, of the first Charter, and you will find it provided in there that this Commonwealth shall take care of that all the children of the citizens shall be properly instructed, and it has always been a duty that has been recognized by this Legislature. Now, Mr. Speaker, for myself, I do not intend to vote against this bill; I am going to vote for it. I am going to vote for it reluctantly. I call attention merely to these matters because it is my strong hope that in the adjustments that take place before a perfect general appropriation bill is framed, that these points of view will be recognized. We must consider that when it comes to the public schools we do not appropriate money by grace, we appropriate money on the basis of a contract that the State has made, and if we are not going to appropriate sufficient money to keep our part of the contract we are simply dislocating the entire educational system of the state. I call your attention to these matters because it is my strong hope that before this bill goes to the Governor it may go to the Governor with adequate appropriations certainly for as important a part of your state governmental functions as public education.

Mr. McCAIG. The general appropriation bill as reported by the appropriations committee of the House carries the largest amount ever granted for the needs of the state government for a two-year period.

The public schools of Pennsylvania are given the largest appropriation in their history, the amount set aside for them being more than $2,000,000 over that granted two years ago.

The administrative departments are granted $4,468,839 more than the amount appropriated in 1923 which at that time the Governor stated was sufficient to provide for general improvements in state administration.

The general appropriation bill carries a total of $78,760,000 of which $48,000,000 goes to the public schools as against less than $46,000,000 in 1923. This item does not include separate appropriations for higher education and for the teachers' retirement fund.

The sums provided for the various activities, including the $500,000 increase for normal schools and the $238,000 increase for the Department of Forests and Waters, were arrived at only after careful investigation during which the most accurate data obtainable was developed and employed.

Hearings have been granted to all department heads who sought them. The Senate committee will hold a final hearing on this bill next Tuesday, March 31, at two o'clock P. M. and I might add that there will be hearings on Monday.

While providing more liberally than ever before for the maintenance and development of the schools and governmental departments, the committee has tried to follow the national policy of the Republican Party by fostering a progressive and yet economical administration of public affairs.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as a member of the Committee on Appropriations, I desire to say that I followed the work of this committee through this session with a great deal of interest. It has seemed to me that the matter of appropriating money for the various state activities in this session has constituted a most important problem before this present session of the Legislature. We found ourselves at the beginning of this session where we were given two different estimates on the state's possible revenue, and at once it was heralded throughout the state, through the public press that there was confusion here in reference to that problem, as to what estimate this Legislature was going to accept as its basis for making appropriations. Now, in my years of experience as a member of the Appropriations Committee the problem presented was not a new one. It was what has happened in the past. We have often had a conflict as to the amount of money that it was possible for the Legislature to spend. It seemed to me, and I think that view point was adopted by the majority of the Committee on Appropriations, that our problem was to go ahead and adequately take care of the state's institutions without regard as to where we were going to come out and whose estimate was finally going to be accepted. First, our problem was to determine our needs, and that is the manner in which the work of this Appropriations Committee has been carried out. I want to say to you members that never in my experience here, as a member of this Committee, have I known this work to be pursued with more intelligence and a higher regard for the needs of the State than has been done by our Chairman and by our members on these very things. I want to say that there has never been a time when there has been any confusion or any conflict of opinion over these matters. There was one single question that came up in connection with these appropriation measures that was a matter of some discussion, and that was as to whether or not we were to accept the lump sum appropriation for private charity for state aid institutions and the committee unanimously agreed to disregard the lump sum appropriation. I will make modification of that statement by saying that one member of the committee who voted "no" on that did so making the statement that he only voted that way because he was not sure whether it was right or wrong to so make these allowances. Now then, at once it was heralded throughout the state through the press that some confusion reigned in this session because of this action. As a matter of fact it was practically the unanimous opinion of the Committee on Appropriations to disregard the lump sum. What does that mean? I beg your patience while I say that simply means this that while the lump sum appropriation was disregarded, that the $3.00 per diem for charity patients in hospitals was retained, and not one dollar of money appropriated to those various hospitals can be used until those hospitals can show that they have rendered the service, and then they cannot be reimbursed in excess of the per diem. So that in the end the only thing that was disregarded in the Governor's budget recommendation in that connection was that we were not to know how much money was set aside for our particular institutions, and we believe that if that were done there would be no use of having this matter referred to the Committee on Appropriations. If that lump sum provision remains, and the $3.00 per diem prevails then we need no appropriation, nor do we need any Legislature to handle this problem. I believe that is a fair statement of the fact.

In connection with the amount allotted in this bill to the various State activities, practically without exception, every department, every activity including public schools, has received an increase over the amount awarded them two years ago. I will not even yield to my friend from Philadelphia who has just spoken in my desire to help the public school system in this Commonwealth. I owe a great deal to that institution, and I have an intense and patriotic desire to see that that activity is carried on with adequate funds with which to support it, but if I am to believe that a $2,000,000 increase for each biennium is not going to be sufficient to take care of the requisite needs of our public school system then I think we have reached the point in the Pennsylvania Legislature where we need to rewrite our school law because the thing will become so burdensome that we simply cannot carry on. Why, the sum of $48,000,000 has been mentioned as the amount awarded to the public schools. I can recall in the 1913 session when the amount was raised from $11,000,000 to $15,000,000, and we were lead to believe that that was a very large increase, and the people told us that that was all that was needed at that time, that was all they asked for. Now we have gotten up to $48,000,000 and I am actually beginning to wonder where the end is going to be. Surely if we have given an increase, which has been done of $2,000,000 in this bill, I believe that Mr. Edmonds should be well content to say that you have done very well by our school system.

There has been a good deal of bunk, if you please, in regard to the cuts made in this budget. I will stake my reputation as a legislator on the statement that never in my experience in this House has there ever been the intelligent, earnest and successful effort made to handle these appropriation questions as there has in this session, the result of which is represented in the bill now before, and on which we will be called upon to vote. I believe the bill should be supported. I believe that it can honestly be supported by every member of this House.

Mr. HEFFRAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McCaig, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCAIG. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEFFRAN. I call your attention to page 17 from lines 11 to 14, and ask as a matter of information why that item has been stricken out of the bill.

Mr. McCAIG. That is the $1,500,000.

Mr. HEFFRAN. For building and constructing state normal schools and I would like to ask further what is the position of the Appropriations Committee on that?

Mr. McCAIG. The cost of the addition of the state normal schools, it has been studied, and I believe a bill or resolution is in progress or will be in progress to create a survey of these institutions in order that when the next session of the Legislature meets they will be able to make an intelligent report on all new buildings. I am told some of them are in bad shape, and the committee at that time, and the next session of Legislature, will be able to adequately take care of this problem.

Mr. EDMONDS. I would like to say a word again, chiefly by way of comment upon the admirable and lucid statement by the gentleman from Elk. He debates so rarely that I think it must be a matter of regret to you as it is to me that he does not address us more frequently, because his experience has been so very great and he has always shown such marked sagacity in dealing with these problems. To my mind the Legislature of 1923 represented a distinct advance upon 1921 in its dealings with financial problems, and I think I am safe to say that the Legislature of 1925 has also represented a distinct advance upon its predecessors.

The point that I want to make now, however, is this: There are a certain number of functions which are assumed by the state as a matter of existing law which are peremptory duties and then there are a certain number of functions which the state voluntarily assumes; for which it uses the balance of its money. It is bad fiscal policy to spend the gratuities first and then after that come down to the things which you must do. I think there is a united opinion in the States of the Union in dealing with the fiscal problems that the General Appropriation Bill which covers what must be done is the first financial measure to be considered, and my hope is that the Legislature of 1927 will go ahead of us in 1925 in that particular. There are a certain number of items which are more or less elastic. When we come to dealing with new buildings, when we come to dealing with extensions of the state's property there you are dealing with a question with which frankly your work must be measured by the amount that you have got, but when you come to dealing with carrying on under existing law, there you have an exact specific problem that must be met in an exact and specific way. The gentleman from Elk asks why the public schools require more money. The reason is perfectly clear. The number of teachers two years ago was 49,000. The number of teachers this year is 53,000. Our appropriation is based upon the returns of the county superintendents on November 1st, 1924. You have appropriated enough money to take care of one half of that increase. What are you going to do with the other half? The gentleman from Elk meets the situation bravely by suggesting that the public schools may be a heavier load than the state can carry. If that be so some bills ought to be introduced that look toward cutting down the state's education in that matter, but I think that you believe, as I believe, that the people of this Commonwealth are resolved that there shall be no backward steps with reference to the public schools. It seems to me that the only thing that we can do is to appropriate money to discharge our appropriation liabilities. Now, let me point out exactly what is going to happen. You have on the statute books a law that the Auditor General must reimburse all school districts at six months intervals. He will pay out the full quota next fall, he will pay out the full quota next spring, he will pay out the full quota the fall following that and then he will be $2,000,000 short when it comes to the last quarter. Now, what is going to happen then? There is going to be another deficiency appropriation. You can call it, if you please, an appropriation liability, or you can call it any particular term you want. What happens is that the state, by law, has promised money that it has not appropriated to pay. Now, personally I cannot think that that is a good fiscal proposition, and recognizing, as my friend suggests, the advance that has been made in the last two years, recognizing the very great advance that has been made in treating hospitals whereby it is now a per diem for their work as compared with the old method of appropriation, and recognizing the advance that was made along other lines, my hope is that at this session we will also advance and appropriate adequately for those things which are fixed expenditures by state law, otherwise we are in the situation of the man who owes $1,000 and he sets aside $800 to pay the debt and says, "Thank God, my credit is now clear." We are in the situation where we know precisely what this expenditure will cost us and we are appropriating $2,000,000 less. That cannot appeal to anyone as a sensible business proposition.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FLYNN. You make the statement that the first reduction should be made in new capital expenditures, buildings, etc. I take it that you realize that in the bill before us that the large reductions in items have been made in just that respect?

Mr. EDMONDS. I don't think so, Mr. Flynn. May I say to the gentleman from Elk,—let me read you the reductions that are made on the public school end, and I think you will realize that the major portion of it is not on new capital. Here is a reduction of $500,000 in normal school maintenance. That is not new capital, and there is a reduction.

Mr. FLYNN. Pardon me. A reduction? You speak of that as a reduction, why that is an increase. The amount granted to that item is an increase.

Mr. EDMONDS. I am comparing it with the budget item.

Mr. FLYNN. Oh well, I am not comparing it with the budget, I am comparing it with the appropriation that they have heretofore received.

Mr. EDMONDS. I am comparing mine with the estimate of expenses, and as to what it takes to do the work. Now, take the other items. There is a reduction of something like $2,100,000 in the teachers annuity for the two years.

Mr. FLYNN. A reduction from what, may I ask?

Mr. EDMONDS. A reduction from the budget estimate.

Mr. FLYNN. Oh, well, I am speaking of the amount that has heretofore been had for these purposes.

Mr. EDMONDS. Then as I understand it, it is the thought of the gentleman that if you appropriate an increase over what you have appropriated two years ago, you have fulfilled your obligations without regard as to how much the work may be increased in the meantime.

Mr. FLYNN. Not at all. Based upon inquiries made just as intelligent as those applied to the construction of the budget.

Mr. EDMONDS. I asked the gentleman from Allegheny with reference to the teachers salary item, as to whether that was based upon a definite number of teachers, and the answer was that it was not.

Mr. FLYNN. I am not in position to speak on that one particular item.

Mr. EDMONDS. Now, that is one of the items that I happen to be particularly familiar with, and my feeling is that when you have a four thousand increase in teachers and appropriate money to cover two thousand, you will not discharge your full duty to the public schools.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, while this has been a very full discussion, there are just a few important thoughts I have that I would like to give the House. In the first place, there has been a whole lot of questions from the beginning as to what amount of money we have to appropriate. If the members of the House will turn to their budget on page 15, you will see there that there is very little difference from the figures that are estimated there by the budget and the amount that is estimated we will have to appropriate by the Auditor General. Of course, they started off with $132,000,000, but at the time they figured the amount to be appropriated at this session for the next biennium, $120,000,000. There has been appropriated up to the present time about $119,000,000. That is within a million dollars of the amount that the budget says is the amount that should be appropriated for the next biennium.

Now, when some of them talk about cuts of $7,035,000, they mean cuts from the budget, of course, just as explained by the gentleman from Elk. Now, those cuts from the budget are as follows: "Consolidated and vocational schools, $1,000,000," and yet that appropriation at the present time is an increase over 1923 of $325,000. They call it a cut in the budget, which it is. From the common schools, of $1,110,000, and yet instead of that being an actual cut, it is an increase over 1923 of $1,200,000. Normal schools, they say are cut $500,000, cut from the budget but that is an increase over 1923 of over $500,000 and sundry increases of $25,000. Now, one of the great cuts here—and just as has been said by some one, a commission has been appointed to investigate and inquire into the building of State normal schools. You will notice for that reason we have cut from this budget the normal schools, for buildings and construction, $1,500,000. Now we come down to the item which has been a great bugaboo in our appropriation ever since it started, and that is this Teachers Retirement Fund. If there has been anybody at this time that knows just exactly what we should appropriate for that item, I have not been able to find them. We have never had that so far before the committee, and we have had experts of all kinds you can think of. That started first when this retirement was created with the understanding that the State would have to raise say, $500,000 for a period of ten years. The last item we find it comes to something like $2,000,000, and yet the State will have to raise for twenty years for this fund. Now, when we estimated in 1923, that was to cost something over three and a half million dollars; so that you can see that this cut of $2,125,000 in the Retirement Fund, in the first place, is not due until 1927. That amount is not due until 1927, and can be well left off until that time. And in the second event, it is what has been called in the budget as "unappropriated balances unascertainable." And so it is with the Retirement Funds, it is unappropriated balances, unascertainable, and therefore when we are short of funds, which we have been, and have to cut everything all the way along the line, hospitals, schools, and everything else, just as has been said, we have been giving an increase instead of a decrease, of $2,050,000 over and above 1923. And at the same time, as I have said, we have appropriated within $1,000,000 of what the budget says we will have for the next biennium. We appropriated $119,000,000.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, before asking permission to interrogate the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, I want to state that no one in the House more than I can testify to his absolute fidelity to his duty, and a fine bit of work he has done for this Legislature and for our branch of it. There are, however, two or three questions I should like to ask him, and I only want to ask them prefaced by the statement which is a personal tribute from me to him. And now, Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, is it not a fact that in your General Appropriation Bill, before us this morning, that you have reduced the appropriation to the Japanese Beetle Investigation Fund from $150,000 to $100,000?

Mr. McCAIG. Which is an increase of $70,000 over what you received two years ago.

Mr. LUDLOW. Isn't it a fact that two years ago, the appropriation was ridiculously insufficient to protect the State against the spread of this scourge to the farmer?

Mr. McCAIG. They had government assistance at that time, I am told.

Mr. LUDLOW. Yes; well, with the government assistance and you give them $100,000. Has there been application made by the Department of Agriculture to your committee, or is this simply based upon a paring of the budget?

Mr. McCAIG. I understand that they had a conference with the Senate committee, or discussed it with the committee with the possibility of the government withdrawing, and that can be further discussed when the bill gets over to the Senate.

Mr. LUDLOW. That is a great pleasure. Now, Mr. McCaig, is it not a fact that the Department of State Police in your bill at page 3, file folio 4157, is given exactly the same appropriation which it received two years ago in the specific appropriation from this Legislature?

Mr. McCAIG. Correct.

Mr. LUDLOW. That is correct. Has your committee had before it or requested to come before it, the Superintendent of State Police, in order to ascertain whether the cuts made two years ago should still be made in the interests of the enforcement of the law in general as it works out through the State Police Department? Has there been any such request for a hearing?

Mr. McCAIG. Inasmuch as the State Police have been doing such efficient work during the past year and realizing that we must work out the deductions, we figured they could get along on what they had two years ago.

Mr. LUDLOW. Does your committee know that if the State Police Department is continued by an appropriation of $1,500,000 for the next biennium, that it must actually reduce the personal of the State Police by ten or more members?

Mr. McCAIG. I have not been furnished that information.

Mr. LUDLOW. Your appropriation bill also eliminates entirely, does it not, the request for an appropriation for the removal of the Eastern Penitentiary from Philadelphia to some other place?

Mr. McCAIG. That is not in this bill.

Mr. LUDLOW. That is not in this bill at all?

Mr. McCAIG. No.

Mr. LUDLOW. Will the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, for our information, so that when we send this to the Senate, we may not be entirely in the dark, let us know if he has worked out the totals of the appropriations not only in this bill, which amounts to $78,760,000 and more, but the total of that sum and of the specific sums that have gone through on the State-aid for charitable institutions and, in general, a total of all the appropriation bills which have met with your committee's approval?

Mr. McCAIG. About $119,000,000 at this time. It is thought that when the bill goes over to the Senate, if corrections are to be made, if any are necessary, that we have some balance left to go on.

Mr. LUDLOW. Thank you. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it may seem to you as if we are straining at a gnat swallowing a camel when I speak of so small a subject as the spread of the Japanese beetle. Two years ago this State closed its eyes and deliberately failed to appropriate a large enough sum to prevent the spread of this scourge. It is now in Bucks county and Montgomery county, and while on the average it only spreads five miles a year, and therefore would not reach my friend in Allegheny for seventy years and my friend in Elk county for possibly fifty years, the fact remains that if anything is taken out of those counties and we let down our quarantine, that in one day it can be taken up and put down one hundred and fifty miles away, and if you folks living in the other counties will wake up some morning and find this pest has arrived because the Legislature has not provided a sufficient sum, your counties will be in the same position that we are in Bucks and Montgomery counties. I understand that this will be taken up on the other side on Tuesday, when the committee hears these requests.

I want to say about the State Police that two years ago their appropriation was pared down with the other departments. We are considering a new biennium, and yet we keep them exactly where they were two years ago. The State Police force, under the law which was passed by this Legislature two sessions ago, is entitled to a full personnel of four hundred and twenty-one men. It now has two hundred and seventy. If this appropriation here goes through, it must be reduced by at least another ten, because during the last two years they have been traveling along by using certain sums which should have gone for new equipment, new arms, horses, saddles, and all sorts of things going to make up the State Policeman's equipment; and in voting, therefore, this morning, for this bill, like the gentleman from Philadelphia on the educational matter,—in which I heartily concur with him,—I do so, not because we are surrendering our rights, but upon the statement of the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, just made, that when this reaches the Senate, they will consider these things and grant hearings to those departments which have not thus far been heard, and if this comes back from the Senate, we can then take it up again. But I am not allowing this opportunity to escape for me to say that I vote most reluctantly on this bill on these two points, the one a relatively small one, but it may be a big one at any time, that of the Japanese beetle scourge; and the other a very big one, and that is the State Police.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Ludlow, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LUDLOW. Absolutely, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. The gentleman from Montgomery states it means a reduction of ten men on the police force, the state police. To what force are you referring?

Mr. LUDLOW. I am referring to the Department of State Police of which Major Adams is the head.

Mr. ALEXANDER. And does that include the Highway Patrol?

Mr. LUDLOW. It does not, that is not in his department.

Mr. ALEXANDER. From what fund has the Highway Patrol been paid?

Mr. LUDLOW. The Highway Patrol has been paid from the funds of the Highway Department, I am informed by that department.

Mr. ALEXANDER. How many members are there in it?

Mr. LUDLOW. I cannot tell you.

Mr. ALEXANDER. That patrol, notwithstanding, that they have been dressed up in a uniform with a gun on their side, all the paraphernalia to do work with, they have had no power whatever for the last year have they?

Mr. LUDLOW. I could not tell you.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Yet we have paid $100 a man per month during the whole year?

Mr. LUDLOW. If the gentleman from Delaware wishes to recommend any legislation with reference to the Highway Patrol, or police connected with the Highway Department, we should be pleased to consider it when it is introduced, but at this time my remarks extend solely to the State Police.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Is it a fact that the appropriation which is called for in this bill was for the purpose of including the Highway Patrol within the figure?

Mr. LUDLOW. Do you mean the new one now?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I mean the one in the budget, I think it was $383,000, if I am not mistaken. I may be wrong in the figures, but the recommendation in the budget, was not the purpose of that to include the Highway Patrol?

Mr. LUDLOW. I am informed that it was not, but I cannot vouch for the accuracy for that.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Do you know that during the last biennium that it was the intention and purpose and, in fact, an effort was made to stick the Highway Patrol under the State Police?

Mr. LUDLOW. I could not answer that.

Mr. ALEXANDER. And it was only after it was shown that they would have to be paid out of the State Police Fund that they retracted from that action.

Mr. LUDLOW. I could not answer that.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Do you know how much has been spent by the State Police and charged up, and not charged up against the counties, but charged up against the State by the State Police buying rum during the last year?

Mr. LUDLOW. I don't. I know how much the State Police have turned into the counties during the last year as a result of fines imposed in those cases.

Mr. ALEXANDER. That has nothing to do with this case. We are not referring to counties at this time. Counties have also paid State Police costs for purchasing rum. I am asking you now if you know what expenditures are included and taken out of the appropriations for the State Police during the last year for the purchase of liquor.

Mr. LUDLOW. I don't. I know it was not before the committee because the chairman has just said there was no hearing and Major Adams said they were notified to attend no hearing.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Don't you know that certain members of that committee, perhaps not yourself, but certain other members have made individual searches, individual inquiries into department items in arriving at that figure?

Mr. LUDLOW. I imagine that is so.

Mr. ALEXANDER. You don't know then that there was $11,000 spent by the state in the last year for the purchase of what was known sometime ago in tone of the speeches as poison alcohol, and yet all the cops are still living?

Mr. LUDLOW. I join with the members of the House, Mr. Speaker, in answering with a laugh.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Thank you. Going back to the school proposition there is just one comment that I forgot to make. Out of the $119,000,000 that has been appropriated, $58,852,200 has been appropriated for schools and colleges: $58,852,200 while fifty per cent of the $119,000,000 is only $59,500,000; so practically fifty per cent of the amount that has been appropriated in total has been appropriated for schools and colleges. Now as to these other sums, it seems to me when you speak about the work of the Appropriation Committee every member on that committee has work to do. It does not mean that the Chairman of that committee is obliged to call those forty members of that committee together. I, for one, didn't wait to be called together by the Chairman. I did a little work on the side lines, as I have done ever since 1919, and it is a good plan for anybody that is on the Appropriation Committee not only to inquire of these different departments as to their needs and necessities but in checking over the work they do, to examine how these departments are run, for your own purpose you will find that it is a good education to follow up those different departments. I want to say that all the departments at the present time, while I have stood here at different times and criticised them to a certain extent, in 1919 they had no practical bookkeeping system. You could not find out anything about it. Since that time, however, they have a bookkeeping system. I can only say about the work of this Appropriation Committee that every member of this Appropriation Committee has a duty to perform just as much as the Chairman has, and just as has been said in compliment to him, I know he has been working on these appropriations as late as 3:00 o'clock in the morning. I have gone in there at 2:00 o'clock in the morning and found him with his assistants working over these figures. I have given him all the assistance I possibly could. I have gone into those departments, and by going into those departments is the way I found that the State Police, although this liquor was such poisonous stuff, spent the sum of $11,000 in purchasing it last year, although they all look like a pretty healthy bunch yet. Not only that; you look in your counties and you will find there additional bills have been paid in your counties for the purchase of this liquor. There is no doubt in my mind, and I am reliably informed that the $383,000 which is asked for here is for the purpose of paying the Highway Patrol in addition to the State Police. Up to the present time notwithstanding, that the Highway Patrol has been on duty for a year they are dressed up practically the same as the other state policemen, they are uniformed, and they carry a gun, and they carry a club, they look just like a real officer, and the expense of that uniform has been paid by the state, and they are paid one hundred dollars a month, they do not have any more right to arrest a man, and they have no more authority than any individual has, and that is to report the number of a machine that is not properly following the law, and yet we are paying that magnificent sum for something like one hundred men at one hundred dollars each a month, excluding their uniforms, and yet they are asking now for $383,000 for that. Well, we can say at the present time, with our finances in the condition they are, that they can wait at least another year.

Now, as to the Japanese beetle, of course, we don't know that we are going to have any Japanese beetle. There are none at the present time, that I know of, but I think if the experience of the members of this House has been the same as mine has, that that Japanese beetle proposition can be carried on a good deal cheaper than last year. I have known at different times of two members of this division of the Agricultural Department, being stationed at a place, with two members of the State Police alongside of them, four members to find out whether some farmer or some citizen,—a general thing they are stopped, along the road to find out whether they are carrying any green goods, four men to make that inquiry; and those four men I have known to be there from nine o'clock in the morning until four o'clock in the afternoon, and from four o'clock in the afternoon anybody can carry green goods or wet goods, or anything they want to, because there is nobody there. Now, I understand further than that, that is one of the purposes for which this appropriation is to go, and I am informed that the chemist in that department has had nothing to do for the last two years, he has not been able to give the department any assistance, because of the fact that they have been busy examining and analysing alcohol for the State Police Department.

All of these figures have been gone into by the Chairman of this Appropriation Committee, and by some of the members of the Appropriation Committee, and investigations have been quietly made, and I assure you that if the members of that Appropriation Committee would give the same time to this bill that your Chairman has given to it, there would be no taking up any hour with argument on this bill. You would be perfectly satisfied that the best has been done that was possible to do, that the schools have received the maximum. Every member of this House, and every member of the Committee, including the Chairman of that Committee, wants to give them the very best they can for the education of the children of this State. There is nobody that will keep that away from them for a moment.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I fully realize the stupendous work that faces the Appropriations Committee at every session of the Legislature, but I feel, by way of suggestion, that we ought to have this definite policy that the obligations of the State should first be met, and then the gratuitous appropriations should be made afterwards. Now, I wish to refer to one item with your permission in particular, page 21, line 29,—the item relating to reimbursing the school districts of the State, and this is only by way of suggestion, because I feel that this matter has to be taken care of by the Senate. Now the crux of the issue, as I see it, is whether $40,000,000 will meet the obligations which the State has assumed under the Edmonds Law. If we do not meet those obligations, and we know that they automatically increase year after year, and if we fail to make sufficient appropriations to meet the fixed obligations that the State has assumed under the Edmonds Act of 1921, then we will face a condition that is going to embarrass and plague every member in this House back in our districts. We know that that law has put a heavy burden upon the State, but it likewise has also put a heavy burden on the local districts. The increment provision of that law automatically increases the burden on the local districts. Now if this appropriation is not fully made, or if we do not make sufficient appropriation, this is what is going to happen: In the last six months of the two-year period or biennium, we will have a deficiency and there will be no money to reimburse the school districts. The school districts in many cases are now up to their knees in debt, and they are up against the same proposition which we in the State are. I feel that we should, before this bill goes to the Governor, go over the reports of the county superintendents very carefully and try to ascertain as definitely as possible just how much money is required to meet these obligations. I realize there is strong demand for money from every quarter at every session, but here is something that the State has assumed, here is a definite and fixed obligation; the State has entered under that law, into a contract with every local school district in the State, and the question to us is, whether we, as the State of Pennsylvania, or the Legislature representing the State of Pennsylvania, stand ready and willing to face those obligations and to do our share to carry our share of the burden. If we do not, we will embarrass the local districts, and it is going to come back to us and is going to plague every member of this House before the next year is over. I have no criticism to place upon the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee nor its members. I realize it and I believe that that committee has done its work faithfully and conscientiously, but none of us are perfect, and here is something which I believe we should look after before this bill finally reaches the Governor, so that when it does reach the Governor and is in the position for him to sign that we have at least met the definite obligations which the State assumed and which it owes to the local districts.

I understand from what the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee has said that this has not been thoroughly gone over. I feel that it should be very thoroughly gone over and studied and that this item especially should be corrected before the bill is finally signed, so that we are in position not to have a deficiency and not to embarrass every school district of this Commonwealth.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL PLACED UPON CALENDAR.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1438, file folio 1465, entitled:

An Act to further amend section twenty-one of an act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred twenty) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" as amended by changing the rate of taxation on capital stock and removing the exemption granted corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for laundering and manufacturing purposes be placed upon the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Ways and Means Committee.

Mr. MATHAY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, so that there might be no misunderstanding concerning the reason for it or the purpose of this motion, I want to say that House Bill No. 1438 is a bill introduced by the gentleman from Armstrong and provides for a tax on manufacturing corporations or a reduction of the tax on certain corporations. This bill was referred to the Ways and Means Committee, and after due consideration of the bill it was reported to this House with a negative recommendation. Personally, I am in hearty accord with the action of the committee, and my only purpose in making this motion at this time is to definitely put out of the way for the balance of the session the buggy of this manufacturer's tax, and for that reason I ask the members of this House to vote no on my motion to vote it down.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia vote for this bill?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the majority in the committee.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Will you vote to put the bill on the calendar?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I will, sir.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker it is true that the Ways and Means Committee reported this bill with a negative recommendation notwithstanding the fact that the sponsor of the bill asked the courtesy of a hearing, which has always been accorded the sponsor of any bill so far as my knowledge goes. Furthermore, I want to say that it has been the custom of the Ways and Means Committee to meet promptly at the appointed hour, whatever that hour may be; 9:15 was the hour yesterday morning. At 9:15 four or five members of the committee were there with the chairman. The chairman immediately left the room and did not return until twenty or thirty members were there, thirty-five members I have been told. I am not reflecting at all on the chairman, but this bill was the first one taken up. The bill was reported out properly with twenty-five votes against it, and ten for it. I would ask the members of this house to extend to the sponsor of that bill the courtesy of putting the bill back on the calendar and then I will move to re-commit it to the Committee for the purpose of a public hearing, if you put it back on the calendar, and I can see no reason why it should not be granted that courtesy.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, may I say in explanation of the matter now before the House, that there has been such a bill or a bill with a similar purpose before the Ways and Means Committee since early in this session. Not one word was said nor was there any indication that there was interest enough in that bill to ask for a hearing. Instead, the bill was permitted to lie in committee without any effort made whatsoever to advance it at a time when such a matter could be properly considered by the committee. Now then, the day has gone by in this season when a subject as important as this one can be properly considered at this session of the Legislature. This bill contains a provision that would upset our entire system of taxation in Pennsylvania; it would disrupt to the extent that we would start now in the closing days of the session to undo everything that has been done, including the action taken this morning in the passage of the bill providing for the expenses of the government for the next two fiscal years. Everything we have done here in the way of appropriating money, in the way of estimating our revenues, in the way of legislating in this session, we are now asked to undo by considering a proposal that means what? This bill is no stranger here; as I said at the beginning of my remarks such a bill or a similar bill or a bill that would accomplish this same purpose has been before the committee for weeks and months and yet not one word has been said relative to it, but now in the closing days of the session we are asked to take up this important question, in the face of the fact that we have authorized and have working here in Pennsylvania a Tax Commission which is empowered to recommend to us an entire revision of our taxing system. That commission has worked intelligently and diligently, and has accomplished a great deal and has only been able to present to us a report on their preliminary investigation; a report which we have here in our possession. This subject is so big and so important that that commission has not been able, it has not been physically possible for them to complete their work, and it has been requested that this commission shall be retained for the next two years. I believe it is necessary and expedient to renew that commission, and that they go on with the work which has been referred to them. I believe they will come here in the session two years hence prepared to make recommendations that will mean an intelligent reconstruction of our entire taxation system in Pennsylvania. I say to you, members of the House, that there is no interest in Pennsylvania, that I know of, that desires to evade its just share of taxation. There has never been such an attempt, and if there is any interest in this great Commonwealth of ours which has less desire to do that very thing, it is the manufacturing interest of Pennsylvania. There has been no more patriotic body of citizens in our Commonwealth than they; there is no body of citizens in Pennsylvania that has done more for its welfare and its upbuilding than the very men which this bill would penalize. I say to the members of this House that I have never yet met one manufacturer who was not more than ready and willing to pay his just share of the taxes, and I want to say to you that he is doing that to-day notwithstanding these exemptions on the capital invested in this business. What does that capital investment mean to this great State of ours? Industries have been attracted here which means that we have attained our present prosperity directly from it. It means that it has been a great factor in making Pennsylvania the premier State of this Union in prosperity and wealth. Now then, why should we, in the closing days of this session, upset the very principle that established our present position. I believe that is a mistaken idea. I do not question the motives of any man; I can easily conceive that Mr. Armstrong is earnest and sincere in his desire to bring this matter to our attention, but I do say that he is too late in beginning this action at this time, and I say, furthermore, that he is ill-advised in doing so in view of the fact that we have a commission on taxation which is to study these problems intelligently and earnestly, with a desire to solve it in the proper manner. I hope that this motion will be voted down and the matter will be settled for the balance of the session.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, there are times when the gentleman from Armstrong does not agree with me upon certain subjects, but this morning I happen to agree with him. I am heartily in accord with that fine affable gentleman from Armstrong County who has shown and displayed on the floor of the House and in committee and on the streets that he is an affable kind-hearted gentleman. He has come into the House here to-day and has asked you for a particular favor which I think should be granted him, that this bill be placed upon the calendar. He has promised you that if such is done the bill will go back to the committee for a hearing. What is more fair to this man than that that be done and then the bill be referred back to the committee and gratify his wishes in this matter. I believe in courtesy, I believe in reciprocation, and I am heartily in accord with this motion and I ask every member of the House to vote for it.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLYNN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Flynn, you are a member of the Appropriations Committee?

Mr. FLYNN. I am.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. You say that the passage of this bill would disrupt the entire program that that committee has so faithfully worked out?

Mr. FLYNN. Yes, I made that statement.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Did you take into consideration in your figuring the anthracite coal tax bill, whether it would be repealed or not?

Mr. FLYNN. I believe, Mr. Speaker, that this is only a part of a program which the gentleman outlined briefly before the committee yesterday. It is only one step in a program that will ultimately result in the disrupting of the entire work of the session in appropriating money and estimating revenues.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Your answer is rather ambiguous. I want to know, if you will tell me directly, if you took into consideration the repeal of the anthracite coal tax in the figures you used in making these appropriations?

Mr. FLYNN. I took into consideration, Mr. Speaker, in making that statement that this was only a portion of a very comprehensive and ambitious program for changing our tax system.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I haven't very much more information than when I started but the bill referred to, No. 1438, is in a way similar to the bill introduced by the gentleman from Wyoming, Mr. Stark. That bill increases the taxes, while this bill decreases or equalizes them. Furthermore, I enjoyed very much the interrogation of the gentleman from Philadelphia and the gentleman from Allegheny on the school question, and there is no question in my mind but that there is not going to be a deficiency, a $2,000,000 deficiency when we come to meet the contract already made with the schools. I assure you if this bill and the companion bill, which are the repeal of the anthracite coal tax, the repeal of the mercantile tax and the repeal of the inheritance tax, bills for which are in the various committees, if they go through and if this bill goes through sufficient revenue will be provided to take care of the schools and meet your obligations as provided for by law. I ask you, members of the House, to vote to have this bill placed on the calendar and I promise if that is done that I shall immediately ask that it be recommitted to the Ways and Means Committee for a hearing.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Elk has said to you practically all there was to say on this subject with the exception of answering my friend from Allegheny in his remarks in which he threw some bouquets at the gentleman from Armstrong. The gentleman from Allegheny can throw no more bouquets at the gentleman from Armstrong than I could if I started it. I have all the admiration for that gentleman that anybody can have for a man, and if it was in my power I would do anything at all to help him, but the trouble is that I am representing a part of the constituency of the State of Pennsylvania, and, therefore, the time that is taken up in hearings on a matter that will, in the end, amount to nothing is simply a waste of time especially at this date. Now, there has been something said here about what this bill will give to the Commonwealth, whether it is more or less than at present. When we take into consideration, as has been stated, that the commission appointed last June worked diligently from the time of their appointment up to the first of this session, and notwithstanding they had reports from the tax-raising powers of this State, that they interviewed those in other States, they have been unable to give to this Legislature at this time, at this session, a comprehensive plan or tell us what they believe this Legislature should do now. Therefore, it seems to me in the short time this bill has been before the House that it would hardly be safe, I do not believe that even the sponsor of this bill can give us any definite information as to what this bill will do or what it won't do. As I said before, two years ago when we were approaching these different subjects, interested as I was in the subject, I presented a resolution which started the movement to have this Tax Commission appointed. It was for the purpose of having a comprehensive plan or taxing system in this State. The taxing system in this State is all lopsided and out of line, but with a commission containing such men as Judge Reed, of Allegheny, Mr. Connell, of Philadelphia, and Mr. Wheeler and Mr. Edmonds of this House, working as they have upon this plan, I believe in about two years hence we will have a comprehensive plan upon which we can work. Then why is it necessary, at this time, to change the old system as we have it at the present? The main plea here is that this bill be placed on the calendar in order that we might show some courtesy to my friend from Armstrong, and if that was all there was in it I would vote ten times "yes" on that proposition, I would like to see him get all the courtesy possible but when we at this time have come to the place where it is the last day to present bills, when all of the committees with which I am connected are holding hearings week in and week out,—I attend six hearings in one day in the different committees,—I do not think we should waste our time on bills that are not likely to pass when we have so many that should pass. We only have a little over three weeks more in this session. Why, then, just for the purpose of extending a courtesy to a member should we waste the time of the House on this bill?

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, when they say that no one knows what this bill will do I think they are wrong. I think some one knows what this bill will do from the opposition there is to it. I introduced two bills, one a bill to repeal the mercantile tax and the other to cut the inheritance tax in half, both of which you know are very unpopular measures. They were referred to the Ways and Means Committee but before they reached that committee the other tax bill was reported out. I cannot see any reason why this bill should not be placed back on the calendar, and considered in connection with these other bills. Let them be considered together and whatever the result is I will be satisfied. I ask you to vote for this motion.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, there was passed in this House yesterday afternoon a bill which partially at least removed from the crime of murder the fear of capital punishment. That bill has not as yet passed the Senate or been signed by the Governor so that the fear of capital punishment may still obtain. I am sure that every member of the House realizes that the real purpose of the gentleman from Elk and others is with premeditation and with malice aforethought to murder this bill, and all we ask for is that it shall be given the courtesy of a hearing and if it must go down that it go down after my friend Mr. Armstrong has properly said prayers for it. Consequently, so that there might be no misunderstanding I would ask those who are against deliberately murdering this bill without prayer and proper arrangements for its obsequies to vote "aye" upon this motion.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stadlander.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stadlander, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. STADTLANDER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Did I understand the gentleman correctly in his remarks, aside from his laudation of the gentleman from Armstrong that he desires this bill to be placed on the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the committee?

Mr. STADTLANDER. Yes.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Will the gentleman refer to his remarks as made on the floor of the House with reference to the reinstating of the Full Crew Repealer on the calendar, and do I understand from his remarks that he believes that the action of any committee should be sustained, that the committee is the organ of investigation of the House, and that it is the duty of the House to uphold the action of the Committee.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, the Full Crew Bill has nothing to do with this particular bill.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Will the gentleman from Allegheny please answer the question?

The SPEAKER. The members will please confine themselves to the motion before the House.

Mr. BLUMBERG. I would like to ask the gentleman if I am to understand from his remarks at that time that the action of a committee should be upheld by the members of the House?

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I still press my objection, I do not see why I should answer the question.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I am in full accord with the gentleman from Elk and with the gentleman from Delaware in their desire to have the tax commission extend the time for a period of two years. However, I believe if this bill were referred back to the committee and that a hearing as asked for by the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Armstrong be held, the information that would develop at that hearing would be of great assistance and of great benefit to the tax commission and for that reason I shall vote for the motion.

On the question ecurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Armstrong and Mr. Stadlander.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll. The roll was verified as follows:

BILLS ON THIRD READING POSTPONED

Mr. McKIM. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1029, file folio 3647 on page 24 of today's calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. McKIM.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1029, entitled:

An Act to amend section twenty-three of the act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred twenty) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" providing that no tax on gross receipts shall be collected from any municipality for any public utility heretofore or hereafter owned and operated or for any public utility service furnished

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill whether it really makes any change in the existing law. I thought utilities were exempt from taxation.

Mr. McKIM, Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, would say that this bill does not change, as I understand, the existing law. The purpose of this bill is to relieve municipalities who operate electric light companies from the State tax or eight mills tax as imposed under the act of 1889. At that time there were no electric light companies, in 1891 municipalities were authorized, for the first time, to operate electric light companies, so that it was not the intention of the Legislature to tax municipal light companies at the time of the passage of this act. We are now seeking exemption from this under the provisions of this bill.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The House preceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1310 (Senate Bill No. 533), entitled:

An Act to amend section three hundred eighty-one of the act approved the fourteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred forty) entitled "An act concerning townships and revising amending and consolidating the law relating thereto" by providing for the establishment of lights along village streets in townships of the first class and authorizing the levy of a special tax therefor

Agreeably to order,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MARSHALL, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to call your attention to the phraseology in this bill, which is very uncertain.

In the second paragraph on page 2, it reads as follows:

"The township commissioners shall levy for the maintenance of said lights an annual tax upon all the property including factories and places of business abutting upon said highways and other public places in the district benefited thereby." It seems to me that it is going to be impossible to determine what properties in the district are really to benefit by putting these lights along a particular street. This special tax covers the maintenance of these lights and it seems to me the provisions are so uncertain that before we pass this bill it ought to be corrected in that respect. Is there any one here who is representing the sponsor?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. HALL, Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. EARLEY. Mr Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

NAYS—2

Craig,

Wood, W. P.,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1108, (Senate Bill No. 470), entitled:

An Act authorizing counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships and school districts to make contracts of insurance with mutual fire insurance companies

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if there is anyone here who can explain the purpose of this bill.

Mr. WEAMER. Mr. Speaker, this bill as I understand, is simply giving the authority to municipalities, boroughs, townships or school directors as far as they are concerned with reference to insurance in mutual fire insurance companies that they now do not have, as I understand. It is simply granting the privilege or the right of insurance in mutual fire insurance companies.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Weamer.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Weamer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEAMER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Did I understand you to say that districts such as represented in this bill do not at the present time have power to enter into contracts with mutual companies?

Mr. WEAMER. Mr. Speaker, I have said that I understand that such is not the case.

Mr. ALEXANDER. And do you know why?

Mr. WEAMER. No, I do not.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Isn't it a fact that in case the directors of the poor or the township school directors or such other persons mentioned in this bill should insure in mutual companies and those mutual companies should default, that the municipalities are responsible for their share of that insurance.

Mr. WEAMER. That may be the case.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Don't the gentleman from Bucks think that this is a little broad when it says that the authorities may enter into contracts with mutual insurance companies. Should not there be a restriction on those mutual companies, it being a fact that in case a poor company should default that the district which would insure there would have to stand its share of the burden? Should not there be some restrictions as to what mutual companies they would insure in?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. WEAMER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BEHNEY. Mr. Speaker, before the motion is put may I be permitted to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BEHNEY. May I inform Mr. Alexander and the members of the House, that the reason for the introduction of this bill is that recently the Attorney General of the Commonwealth rendered an opinion in which he states that the directors of a school district may become surcharged to the amount lost and this bill is therefore intended to clarify the law to compel all municipalities, and school districts particularly, to insure in reputable mutual companies. The discretion is with the school directors who are called upon to determine which of those mutual companies are sound and reputable. I do not know whether I have answered the gentleman's question but I would like to convey that information to the gentleman.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Behney.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Behney, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BEHNEY. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. In other words from your explanation this is an act to relieve the different school directors or poor directors or whoever it may be from any loss individually and putting the loss on the district.

Mr. BEHNEY. No, absolutely not, Mr. Alexander. Quite the contrary. It is to clarify and re-establish what appears to have been the law for a long period of time that school districts and municipalities may in their district if they see fit take insurance of this character.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House preceded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 929, (Senate Bill No. 358), entitled:

An Act to amend section two of an act approved the twenty-fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws eleven hundred eighty) entitled "An act providing for the joint acquisition and maintenance by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New York of certain toll-bridges over the Delaware River and making an appropriation therefor"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1396, entitled:

An Act authorizing counties cities boroughs towns and townships to appropriate money and to borrow money for use by the Commonwealth in the construction and completion of any project or improvement authorized by law for the conservation of water and control of floods and providing for the expenditure and repayment of such moneys by the Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Mercer, Mr. Anderson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDERSON. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill if he would have any objection to placing the bill on the postponed Calendar for the present?

Mr. ANDERSON. For what reason?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, this is a case of the interrogator being interrogated. There is some question in the minds of some of us as to the constitutionality of this act, and I think before this House acts on a bill of as much importance as this is, that we ought to make a thorough study of this question. I have grave doubts about the constitutionality of the act and I find there are at least two or three that agree with me. I would like to have it on the postponed calendar, but I would not want to do anything to oppose if it is a proper bill; at the same time, I would like to have it postponed so we can look into the question.

Mr. ANDERSON. Mr. Speaker, may I say a few words in explanation. This applies only to the Pymatuning dam project. That is not mentioned in the bill but it applies only to such projects as have been authorized by law prior to this act, and would affect only the municipalities that wish to issue bonds to go ahead and complete the project. This dam is located in Crawford County and the Shenango and Beaver Valleys are very much interested in it, because it is primarily for the conservation of the water supply. An enabling act was passed in 1917 and an appropriation, I believe, of $400,000 was made at that time. That money has been spent in acquiring the land to be covered by the water. I may say further that not all of the land has been acquired but options have been taken on it. Last year we passed an appropriation bill here for $1,000,000 which was vetoed by the Governor, and one of the reasons he gave was the lack of funds. And he has intimated to us that he would have to do the same thing again. The Governor visited the project last fall and seemed satisfied that it was a worth-while proposition, and, at his suggestion, this bill was drawn to give us this relief. The bill would authorize the various municipalities, boroughs, townships and counties to appropriate money from current funds or to issue bonds and advance the money to the State so we might go ahead and construct this dam. If the gentleman from Delaware still desires it, I will offer no objection to placing the bill on the postponed calendar, although I feel that would make it harder to get the bill across. The bill was finally drafted by the Attorney General in conjunction with Mr. Fertig of the Legislative Reference Bureau, and it seems to be the best they could do on it. If the question of its constitutionality is raised, the bill states that the provisions of this act are separable, and if any of its provisions are held to be unconstitutional such decisions shall not affect the remaining provision of this act.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Supposing, however, knowing what this bill was and knowing all the provisions of it, suppose a municipality should advance the money to the Commonwealth to construct this dam and it should turn out afterwards that it would be contrary to the Constitution for the State to either contract to pay it back or to pay it back without an appropriation from the Commonwealth, which you would not be able to get, would not the passage of this act of Assembly put the municipality in a wrong light?

Mr. ANDERSON. They have assured me they are willing to assume the risk.

Mr. ALEXANDER. They are willing to take a chance?

Mr. ANDERSON. They are.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, on my motion the House nonconcurred in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 1061. That was a bill making an appropriation to the Pennsylvania Training School, and I confused that bill and name with that of the Pennsylvania Training School for Feeble Minded at Elwyn, Delaware County. I now understand that Bill No. 1061 makes an appropriation to the Pennsylvania Training School at Morgantown.

I therefore move that the vote by which the House nonconcurred in the amendments made to this bill be reconsidered.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Section 3 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOWERS. I will Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER I would like to ask the gentleman to explain the purpose of this bill

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the purpose of the bill is to aid a defendant in prison without bail and without counsel. All over the United States there is a sort of a wave to have a kind of public defender. This bill is a step in that direction. A man arrested, charged with a crime, and who has nobody to go his bail in Philadelphia, is sent to prison. He remains there and in the morning about 9:00 o'clock he is informed that he will be tried that day. He has no opportunity to notify witnesses. He has no chance to write to anybody.

He comes up at ten o'clock for trial and the trial is all over before his parents or any of his friends know anything about it. It seems to me that this is an error and it ought to be corrected. The bill seeks to correct that error in this way: it requires the district attorney to notify that defendant in prison at least four days before the time set for trial after telling the defendant in order that he can furnish the district attorney with the names and addresses of his character witnesses or any other witnesses that he desires to produce at the trial. The district attorney is not required to subpoena them, but he is required under this bill to mail a notice to each one of the witnesses that the defendant furnishes him. It seems to me that that is right and proper and that a man so confined ought at least have the opportunity to notify his friends to be present at his trial.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Why not instead of having letters written to the witnesses have the bill provide that the subpoena may be issued by the Commonwealth subpoenaing the

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answer to my friend's question I would say this: I approach this matter timidly. I felt that maybe this House might not want to go that far, and I have really drawn the bill as a step in that direction and have some other Legislature in the future add to it.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I think the gentleman will agree that a letter written to a witness amounts absolutely to nothing.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I sometimes must disagree with my opponent on the other side. A letter sent to a mother or father by a prisoner in a jail amounts to more than nothing.

Mr. ALEXANDER. But to witnesses who do not want to appear in court, what does it amount to?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I never found a witness that needed a subpoena and needed to be brought in by force amounted to anything anyway.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I will have to differ with the gentleman on the other side also, and in this especially, I think the gentleman if he will think over a few cases he has had, will agree with me. Many men and many women who are employed in the department stores and in other places of employment want a subpoena in order that they may show their employer that they have been subpoenaed in court and they are absolutely satisfied at all times to come and testify but they know if they come simply because a letter has been written them that that won't go with their employers. For that reason I cannot see why this should not be. It is very little more expense, and if it is necessary to have the witnesses subpoenaed a subpoena should issue rather than have only a letter written. Of course, I agree that this is a step in the right direction. I agree with what the gentleman says. Many a time a poor fellow is put in jail and doesn't have a chance to communicate with his parents or even his wife or anyone else, which is especially so in Philadelphia, I understand but not so much so in the country districts. He is brought into court without a chance to prepare his case or anything else. Now, I simply make this suggestion, and I wonder if the gentleman will agree to amend it?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, the thought that Mr. Alexander expresses that he thinks the witnesses ought to be subpoenaed was very carefully considered by the committee. We felt that this bill being more or less an experiment we didn't want to ask too much at the beginning. To ask for a subpoena and to ask for the service of the subpoena is very right and proper in my judgment, but I didn't want to go that far. I just merely wanted to start it and then let some other Legislature add to it.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Session 1925

Vol. 8.

HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MARCH 30, 1925.

No. 30.

SENATE.

MONDAY, MARCH 30th, 1925.

The Senate met at 9:00 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor David J. Davis) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God: At the beginning of another week of legislative work, we come to Thee to ask Thy blessing to rest upon these Senators. How often they have been prayed for, not only within these walls but in a multitude of places. From hundreds of pulpits and from thousands of homes, prayer has gone up unto Thee that our Lawmakers, both in the Senate and in the House, might be guided and strengthened in the performance of their duties. We have faith in Thee and we believe Thou dost hear us when we pray. Thou knowest how many important matters are coming before this body. May the legislative action be wise and right, that honor may come to Thy name and blessing to the great State in which we live.

On this anniversary day we pause for a moment to ask Thy divine blessing to rest upon our genial and efficient Secretary. We thank Thee that he has been spared to his multitude of friends for these 51 years; and grant that these may be but the glad prophecy of the happy and prosperous days that shall come to him in the years to follow. All these blessings we ask in the Redeemer's Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mrs. VARE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

The PRESIDENT. At this time I want to digress just a moment from the usual procedure to offer our genial Secretary, on behalf of the Senate, its officers and its employees, our hearty congratulations. The Secretary by his uniform courtesy and fair treatment has endeared himself to every member of the Senate and I know I express the hope of every Senator when I wish for him a long life of health, happiness and prosperity.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Lebanon, Mr. Freeman, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. President, as the Chair and the Chaplain have so aptly stated, this is the birthday of our Secretary, the Honorable W. Harry Baker, a man active at all times and at all times on the job; a man beloved, esteemed, admired and respected, not only by members of the Senate, but also by all of its employees. Mr. President, some of the employees of the Senate Transcribing Room have for some time been aware of this date. It is their desire now to take action appropriate to the occasion and they have been debating just what form that action should take. They would not give him flowers because they know that in a day or so those flowers would fade and only a pleasant memory would remain. And so they have all joined together to give to him some permanent, some lasting token of their affection and esteem. Mr. President, therefore, acting upon the request of the Transcribing Room employees, and acting on their behalf, it is my pleasant privilege to present to Mr. Baker their gift for this occasion.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. President, Senator Freeman and Members of the Senate, my friends in the Transcribing Department: I thought my birthday would go by this year unnoticed and unsung, but it seems it has been quite well advertised. I do not seem any older than I felt when I entered this chamber in 1889. True, I have taken on some years, since that time, but they have all been years of pleasure. I know no person who enjoys the association of persons here more than I do, and I want to say to all of you that I prize your friendship and I sincerely hope that nothing in the future will ever occur that will mar the good fellowship that has existed between all of you gentlemen, my good friends, and myself. I thank you again.

And said bill having been read at length the third time. and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I want to say that this would prevent any fusion at the primary elections, except the judges I believe are out of this bill but if this becomes a law at least the Senator from Lycoming would not be here and the Senator from Luzerne would not be here, and I would not be here; and, therefore, I hope the Senate will vote it down.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Lackawanna, Mr. Davis.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Lackawanna, Mr. Davis, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BARR. I would like to ask the Senator from Lackawanna, Mr. Davis, if this bill passes whether or not it will not stop any kind of fusion, even to the election of a school director or a councilman or any county officer, regardless of conditions that might exist in any of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, that is quite right. If this bill becomes a law there is no possibility of filing as a candidate of more than one party. He is either a Republican, Democrat, or a Socialist or a Prohibitionist.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I should like to ask the Senator from Lackawanna, Mr. Davis, whether he is not in favor of the repeal of the judges act, in which they were made non-partisan?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, yes I voted for the repeal of the non-partisan law.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, then I ask the Senator why he amended this bill so they will not be non-partisan?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, it was at the request of some Senators here to-night.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, that may be an answer but it is not a reason. I thank the Senator from Lackawanna; and I would ask the Chair for just a second.

Regularity in the Republican Party is a fine thing when regularity happens to suit that particular faction that happens to have control in it; but when that particular faction does not happen to have control, then regularity is not regularity. I point to the late contest for delegates to the National Convention, in which we had a governor that was nominated, and he was whipped to a standstill by the so-called "regulars"; and every other governor, for years and years and years had been sent to the National Convention as a matter of course.

"Consistency, thou art a jewel!" And if this bill passes it is going to be twenty jewels, and some things that hold the jewels in place; and the independents will not have any more chance or be able to make any more noise than the squeak of a mouse in the lions' house in the zoo. It is going to tie it hand and foot, and Pennsylvania is going to be absolutely at the mercy of the faction that happens to be in power, as of that date, I cannot subscribe to the bill, and I cannot see how any man who considers himself a Republican and refuses the right of another Republican to define his Republicanism, can support it.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I cannot agree with my friend from Allegheny, Mr. Barr. We are here as Republicans or Democrats. We are party men. This bill does nothing more or less than require a man to sign his name to one party nomination. We have had this non-partisan law in the Far West, and what has happened? They have disbarred a number of United States Senators on account of their bipartisan relation. You Democrats are not ashamed of your party. You file under the Democratic standard for your nomination. We file under the Republican nomination. It is as broad as it is long. We are not bipartisan. We are one thing or the other.

Mr. WEINGARTNER. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Lackawanna, Mr. Davis.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Lackawanna, Mr. Davis permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WEINGARTNER. Mr. President, I may be laboring under a misapprehension. My understanding of this bill is that it simply prohibits a candidate from filing under more than one party for the nomination.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, the Senator from Lawrence, Mr. Weingartner, is right.

Mr. WEINGARTNER. Mr. President, I understand that nothing in this bill prohibits a candidate from running on all the parties in his district if he can get the nomination.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, that is right.

Mr. WEINGARTNER. Mr. President, provided you wrote his name in, or the party organizations of the district or if the counties could, under their rules,—if a man withdrew or if we had no nomination, put this man on any of the regular tickets or the regular elections nomination. As I understand, this applies only to primary elections.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, the Senator is quite right.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I want to go on record as saying that I am not here particularly as a Republican; I am here representing my district in the General Assembly, representing Republicans and Democrats and Prohibitionists and every other single man in my district, and I am mighty happy to do it. I cannot see how any man can be in this Senate as other than representing his district, regardless of the politics of the district from which he comes.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, there seems to be a misapprehension as to the sense of this bill. It is not to bar a person from taking any nomination. There is a law applying to that. The man may be nominated on any party.

It does require petitions to be circulated as to party regularity.

It has been suggested—and stated here positively—that this State has nonpartisan election laws for certain cities. The point of it all is that it does not deprive any member of this Senate, or any candidate for any public office, from filing with the prothonotary of his county a petition. The candidate is confined to his party just as definitely as a man should be confined to his religion. No person can be straddling three or four horses crossing any stream in the game of public life. We have come to the place of "Knowing thyself"—as to where we are and where we belong.

I have no axe to grind with Senator Davis, on this Senate Bill, but I believe it would be much better for the public interest if the other side of this house had greater numbers, to be in the minority, than for us sitting around in the great majority.

Let us draw the line of distinction between the two dominant parties. Let us function, in the matter of legislation, between Democracy and Republicanism; that is, where we belong. This Act brings us to our own place and our own position. No person can be deprived of his rights to function, of his vote on any piece of legislation; but when it comes to partisanship it should be defined definitely, positively.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, if it would not embarrass the Senator from Allegheny, I would like to ask him a question.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, is it not true that if this bill becomes a law, you have to file one party paper only,—if your friends wish to vote for you in the primary they will have to write your name on the primary ballot?

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, it does not deprive of the signature and your affidavit as to the party.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, it is to be written on the primary ballot?

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, you come to the question of distinguishing your own personality by your affidavit.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I wish to say the Senator from Allegheny may have no illiterates in his district, but I have; and I would not like to have any man cut out from voting, in my district.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, under the Primary Act an illiterate cannot vote,—under the Primary Act in Pennsylvania.

Mr. WOODWARD. Well, Mr. President, that ought to be amended.

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. President, under the bill that we have now before us—if it passes it would prevent the people in the Borough of Greensburg from electing a Democrat or a Republican and putting them on both the tickets. We have been doing that for a number of years. We elect a Republican, and he is put on both the Democratic and Republican tickets. We elect Republicans, and they are put on both the tickets; and this would prevent them from doing that, as I understand it. The same with supervisors. And we want to keep politics out of these offices, these small borough offices; and it would be wrong, in my judgment, to pass this bill in the form it is in, because it would prevent the election of any man for school director or supervisor, unless he runs especially on a party ticket.

Mr. WEINGARTNER. Mr. President, I agree with all that the Senator from Westmoreland has said, but it would be more than that. A man cannot be a candidate on two tickets. If he has been defeated on one, he cannot continue on the other,—because he cannot be on both.

On the question,

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, if I am wrong I want the author of the bill to correct me. As I read the bill the clock on our Cricket Club, which gives the time to various the people around that neighborhood, may show a certain time and our Governors may have to go to jail if it does not give Standard Time. Now, it is very inconvenient for the people out there who play golf and various games to have daylight saving time. This bill would prohibit it and the Governors would have to go to jail. I think it is entirely unnecessary legislation. It is another misdemeanor and there are so many misdemeanors it make the law so much more contemptible to have so many. We break them every day and every hour.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, yes, sir.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. JOYCE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1067, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I object to this bill being recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General. I think it is unfair, to begin with, for a bill to be reported from one Committee and then recommitted to another. I can see no reason for recommitting this bill and I would ask that the Senate vote down this motion.

Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Joyce.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Joyce, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOYCE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I would ask the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Joyce, why he wishes this bill to be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General?

Mr. JOYCE. Mr. President, the only reason is that the Committee on Elections never had a meeting to consider it. It was presented here one evening and reported out by the Chairman on the same evening. The other reason is there are two or three bills of the same kind in the Committee on Judiciary General. There is supposed to be a hearing on them tomorrow morning and this bill will take the same course as the others.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Joyce, further.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Joyce, permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. JOYCE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I will ask the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Joyce, if he thinks it is proper to recommit a bill to a Committee other than the one from which it came?

Mr. JOYCE. Mr. President, that has been done here right along.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator how many meetings he has held of his Committee during the Session to report bills out?

Mr. JOYCE. Mr. President, what Committee?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, the Committee on New Counties and County Seats.

Mr. JOYCE. Mr. President, I think that question is out of order.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I just asked the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Joyce, to tell us how many meetings he has held of his Committee to report bills out.

Mr. JOYCE. Mr. President, just as many as necessary.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I think it is unfair to recommit a bill to a different committee than the one from which it came. I think we have established a precedent here that that is the wrong thing to do. We are on record as being opposed to that and I ask the Senate to vote down this motion. If necessary to recommit this bill to the Committee on Elections, I am satisfied. This is for the purpose of defeating the bill and I am opposed to that. There is a demand for a jury bill and this bill has been endorsed by the members of Lackawanna County, both Democrats and Republicans, it has the endorsement of the entire county and I think it is necessary at this time that this bill should be advanced.

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. President, after the discussion we have had on the jury bill on first class counties, as representing Westmoreland County, which is a third class county, I think it right that this bill should go to the Committee on Judiciary General for a hearing with some other bills that will be considered in that Committee in order to obtain something that will be satisfactory to all parties concerned.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I realize that the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Kunkle, is sponsor of a bill tonight. The time is getting short, the people up our way are asking for some relief. This bill must pass the House after it passes the Senate and we have no time for relay. There seems to be a conspiracy on jury bills. I am frank to say there seems to be a competitive bidding here and I am going to ask the Senate to vote down the motion to recommit.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Joyce and Mr. Kunkle, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23.

| | | | |
|-------------|-----------|------------|-----------|
| Aron, | DeWitt, | Krause, | Painter, |
| Barr, | Einstein, | Kunkle, | Schantz, |
| Baumer, | Gelder, | Kutz, | Sones, |
| Betts, | Harris, | MacDade, | Vare, |
| Brown, | Heaton, | Mansfield, | Woodward, |
| Culbertson, | Joyce, | North, | |

NAYS—19.

| | | | |
|----------|-----------|---------|--------------|
| Buckman, | Freeman, | Leslie, | Sprowls, |
| Davis, | Griswold, | Miller, | Steele, |
| Derrick, | Homsher, | Norton, | Stites, |
| Earnest, | Huffman, | Patton, | Weingartner, |
| Eyre, | Lanius, | Snyder, | |

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1072, (House Bill No. 200), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation and providing for the hearing adjusting and paying of moral claims against the Commonwealth for injury to or death of persons while fighting forest fires under orders of agents of the Department of Forests and Waters

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1073, (House Bill No. 909), entitled:

An Act transferring and reappropriating to the Department of Public Instruction the unexpended balance of an appropriation made to the Department of Mines by the Act approved the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Judicial and Legislative Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three"

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1087, (House Bill No. 392), entitled:

An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the executive judicial and legislative departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMENDED.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1087, (House Bill No. 392), the bill just read, be recommended to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move that the Senate resolve itself into Committee of the Whole for the purpose of amending this bill.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, this bill is to be recommended to the Committee on Appropriations for the purpose of a public hearing tomorrow afternoon in the Senate Chamber at 2 o'clock. I, therefore, trust the Senators will vote down this motion, and I propose to follow that with a motion to recommit this bill to the Committee on Appropriations for the purpose of a public hearing in the Senate Chamber tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I have no objection to the bill being recommended to the Committee on Appropriations after the Committee of the Whole has had an opportunity to insert what amendments will be offered and no harm can come of it as the amendments, as they are prepared, will be offered and considered in the Committee of the Whole without working any hardship to the hearing that will be held tomorrow.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, it may not work any hardship, but I ask the Senate to defeat this motion. There is no occasion whatever for going into Committee of the Whole in regard to this bill at this time. The bill is to be recommended for a public hearing and if there is to be any further amending that can be done after that. It would be unfair. It would be unfair to take any action of this kind before the public hearing has been held, and for that reason I ask the Senate to vote down this motion.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, the amendments that we offer are very pertinent at this time and I would ask the Senate to allow us to go into Committee of the Whole to consider the amendments.

Mr. SCHANTZ. It may be pertinent but it is improper to do anything like that before the hearing is held on the bill.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, may I ask the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, whether he would agree to let the bill go over in its order and not pass it on second reading?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I agree to nothing of the kind. I ask that the bill be read and then recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations for the purpose of a hearing, which was arranged last week, a public hearing at 2 o'clock here in the Senate Chamber tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, then that brings out the point that no amendments can be offered on the floor of the Senate except by unanimous consent.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, will state his point of order.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, my point of order is that amendments are in order at any time on second reading while the several sections of the bill and the title are under consideration, without going into Committee of the Whole.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, does the Chair rule that the amendments can be offered to this bill without unanimous consent on third reading?

The PRESIDENT. Yes, on second reading and third reading.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, does the Chair rule that amendments can be offered from the floor without unanimous consent on third reading?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has so ruled.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, it does seem to me that the Committee on Appropriations is going to meet tomorrow and there is going to be a public hearing and the committee probably will have an executive session, there should be no question about making amendments when the committee meets.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I understand that you have sustained my point of order.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do not at all want to be discourteous to the Senator from Lehigh, but it has been the practice here to ask unanimous consent, not that it is proper practice, but it seems to be the practice on the floor of the Senate. Since the Chair has ruled that amendments can go in without unanimous consent on third reading in Committee of the Whole, with the consent of the seconder, I withdraw my motion.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I consent.

The PRESIDENT. The motion has been withdrawn.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, so there is no misunderstanding, I think what the Chair meant to say was that on third reading the Senate could resolve itself into committee of the whole and offer amendments, with the majority vote of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1091, entitled:

An Act to amend section three of an act approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 795) entitled "An act to amend sections ten eleven twelve and fourteen of and to add sections eleven (a) and eleven (b) to an act entitled 'An act to regulate the practice of osteopathy in the State of Pennsylvania to provide for the establishment of a State Board of Osteopathic Examiners to define the powers and duties of said Board of Osteopathic Examiners to provide for the examining and licensing of osteopaths in this State and to provide penalties for the violation of this act' approved the nineteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred and nine (Pamphlet Laws forty-six) changing the preliminary educational requirements creating a board to examine and license osteopathic physicians to practice operative surgery providing for such examination and licensing regulating the practice of the same and requiring additional qualifications therefor defining osteopathy and providing for the effect or reports and certificates made by osteopathic physicians and granting additional powers to the Board of Osteopathic Examiners to revoke licenses"

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MANSFIELD, from the Committee on New Counties and County Seats, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1074, (House Bill No. 1235), entitled:

An Act empowering cities and counties which are authorized to take purchase or condemn property and to appropriate money for the erection thereon of public auditoriums libraries memorial buildings and monuments and to provide for their operation and maintenance to jointly take purchase or condemn property and to jointly appropriate money for the erection thereon of such buildings and to provide for their operation and maintenance jointly.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SCHANTZ, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1124, (House Bill No. 1401), entitled:

An act transferring and reappropriating certain moneys heretofore appropriated to the Department of Mines.

Also, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1101, (House Bill No. 438), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Baby Welfare Associations of Philadelphia, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Also, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1092, (House Bill No. 1138), entitled:

A Joint Resolution providing for a legislative commission to investigate the educational needs and resources of the Commonwealth, and make to the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven a report of its findings, together with recommendations setting up a unified State policy in public education for the public elementary and high schools, the State normal schools, and the colleges and universities; prescribing also the powers and duties of said commission, and making an appropriation to cover necessary expenses incident to making such investigation and report.

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL NO. 900.

Mr. JOYCE. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 900, entitled:

An Act to amend section six as amended and section eight of the act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and nineteen) entitled "An act regulating certain political parties providing for and regulating the nomination of candidates of such political parties for certain public offices the election of delegates and alternate delegates to National party conventions and of certain party officers including State committeemen a method whereby electors of such political parties may express their choice of candidates for the office of President of the United States and the payment by the several counties and their reimbursement by the State of the expenses of the same authorizing the State committee of a political party to make and to alter amend and revoke rules and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act and for the punishment of certain offenses provided for herein and repealing inconsistent legislation" was defeated on final passage.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. JOYCE. Mr. President, I voted "no".

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, you have heard much during this session about a square deal. It does seem to me that the very people who have said so much about a square deal have reversed themselves tonight. This motion is made to kill this bill, so that the Senate may understand it thoroughly. If the Senators who have been talking square deal all session will be consistent they will vote for this motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A division being called for 24 Senators voted in the affirmative and 17 in the negative, whereupon the question was decided in the affirmative.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. George P. Donehoo, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee this night that the foundations of this great Commonwealth were so solidly laid because of the sincere convictions of its founder. We pray Thee to give unto all of us the courage and the moral heroism of William Penn. Help us to realize that his whole experiment and that free government ends when men are driven by the opinions of others rather than by their own convictions. So help us, our Father, to think, to act, as men and women, for ourselves. Bless the Speaker, and the members of this House tonight; guide us in all that we do and in all that we say, we ask in Christ's name, Amen.

REPORT FROM JUDICIARY GENERAL COMMITTEE RELATIVE TO THE CHARGES AGAINST HON. JOHN A. BERKEY, PRESIDENT JUDGE OF THE SIXTEENTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to present to the House the report from the Judiciary General Committee relative to the charges against Hon. John A. Berkey, President Judge of the Sixteenth Judicial District.

The Clerk read the report as follows:

To the Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

The Judiciary General Committee, to which were referred by House Resolution of February seventeenth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five for investigation, certain charges made against Hon. John A. Berkey, President Judge of the Sixteenth Judicial District, with instruction to report thereon, respectfully reports as follows:

The Resolution of the House of Representatives reads as follows:

"Resolved that the Committee on Judiciary General be, and is hereby authorized to inquire into and concerning the official conduct of the Honorable John A. Berkey, Judge of the several Courts of the XVI Judicial District of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, comprising the County of Somerset, touching his conduct in regard to matters mentioned in various petitions which have been presented to the House, and especially whether the said Judge has been guilty of any impeachable offense and to report to the House the conclusions of the Committee in respect thereto with their appropriate recommendation: Resolved further that the Committee on Judiciary General is hereby authorized and empowered to send for persons and papers, to subpoena witness, to administer oaths to said witnesses, to take testimony, to employ a clerk, stenographer or stenographers, agents, investigators and attorneys, if necessary, and to appoint a sub-committee from among their number by appointment of the chairman thereof, whenever it may be necessary or expedient to take testimony for the use of the said committee. And the said sub-committee while so employed shall have the same powers in respect to obtaining testimony as are herein given to said committee on the Judiciary General, with a sergeant-at-arms, by himself or deputy, who shall serve the process of said Committee and sub-committee and execute its orders, and shall attend the sittings of the same as ordered and directed thereby, and the said Committee and sub-committee are authorized to sit during the sessions of this House; and the speaker of the House shall have authority to sign and the Clerk to attest subpoenas for any witness or witnesses; and the expenses of this investigation shall be paid out of the contingent fund of the House."

The proceedings against Judge Berkey were commenced by petitions addressed to the Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania by residents of Somerset County.

The duty of the Judiciary General Committee, as set forth in the resolution, is to inquire into, and concerning, the official conduct of Judge Berkey in regard to the matters mentioned in the petitions filed, to ascertain whether Judge Berkey has been guilty of impeachable offense, and to report to the House of Representatives with recommendations, the conclusions of the Committee.

Pursuant to the resolution of the House of Representatives, the Committee through its sub-committee, held public hearings in Harrisburg, February twenty-fifth, and March second, third and fourth. It issued subpoenas for the attendance of all witnesses who were suggested to the Committee as persons likely to have information. The testimony presented to the Committee was very voluminous, and contains much irrelevant and hearsay matter.

Upon careful consideration of the testimony presented and in accordance with the law governing impeachment under the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania, your Committee concludes, and therefore reports, that there are no grounds for the presentment of charges of impeachment against the Hon. John A. Berkey, President Judge of the courts of Somerset County, and the Committee, therefore, recommends to the House of Representatives that further proceedings in the matter be stayed, and the petitions be dismissed.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the report from the Committee on Judiciary General be adopted.

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will file his report. Under Rule 44 of the House, the minority report as filed will be spread on the Journal and the testimony offered will be printed in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

ORIGIN OF THIS IMPEACHMENT.

This impeachment proceeding had its origin in several similar petitions addressed to the Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania, which petitions were signed by approximately eleven hundred residents of Somerset County representing almost every occupation, profession, or trade in said County.

Following is the form of petition:

To the Honorable, the Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania:

The representation and petition of the undersigned, inhabitants, in and citizens of, the County of Somerset, constituting the XVI Judicial District of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, respectfully represents:

That although we are sensible of the great difficulty of the situation of a Judge, and the delicacy with which his character and conduct ought to be considered or concerning which complaint should be made; yet for a considerable time unfavorable impressions, insinuations, criticisms and charges have been circulated in this judicial district and in the neighborhood, and the matters are so circumstantially rumored and evidenced, and concerning John A. Berkey, President Judge of the Courts of said judicial district, as to bring the administration of justice in the said district into disrepute.

Your petitioners believe that under these circumstances it has become necessary, equally for his credit, and for the safety of the people, that these matters should receive examination; and that this can be done only under an authority which has the power to call witnesses and collect the testimony. This authority is lodged in your House in which the Constitution vests the right of impeaching or demanding the removal of judicial officers.

It is charged, averred, rumored and reported that he, the said John A. Berkey, has been guilty of conduct unbecoming an upright Judge, in that, among other things, he has since the beginning of his term of office, some four years since, been actively engaged in promoting, organizing and operating a certain corporation, known as the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company, a Pennsylvania corporation organized for the building of a street railway in the said Somerset County. The project is considered one of doubtful feasibility and profit, and the securities issued or attempted to be issued of extremely doubtful value. Yet still he has used his position as President Judge of the Courts of the said District and his office, prestige, name, credit, and office facilities as said Judge in persuading, cajoling, coercing and requiring citizens of the said district, some of whom have litigation in the said courts or are likely to have, to purchase said bonds and securities of him or his associates or for his benefits, to their great loss and damage.

And furthermore it is reported, rumored, represented and discussed throughout the district that certain defendants in criminal proceedings, before trial or during trial or after conviction, have been known to deal with him, the said John A. Berkey, by the payments of large or small sums of money by check, by cash, or otherwise, directly and indirectly, sometimes by way of subterfuge in the purchase of securities, and sometimes otherwise, but as a consequence of which these said defendants or certain of them, or some of them, have secured judgments or decrees of court, modification of sentence, parole or other favors and advantages, which those not so dealing are accustomed to receive or have afforded them in the said courts.

These matters are the subject of popular discussion, daily becoming more open, and the the matters of comment on the pulpit, in the public press, and are generally in public speech. Accompanying these discussions are related details as to checks, notes and other evidence of such financial transactions, reported by eye witnesses and by photographic and other copies of such.

All these matters have brought the administration of the law in this judicial district into popular disrepute.

We therefor most respectfully petition and solicit that you appoint a committee of your Honorable body or other fit person or persons to investigate these matters, who may take the facts as they may be found into consideration, and report to you that you may proceed accordingly, and that it may be determined that, if these reports are unfounded, the good name and character of the said Judge may be vindicated or, if it appears that these facts or certain of them are well founded, then that proper action may be taken for the vindication of the law, and the restoration of public confidence in the Courts.

And your petitioner will ever pray.

In pursuance of said resolution your Committee has diligently inquired into the matter by holding public meetings in Harrisburg on February 25, and on March 2, 3 and 4, 1925, by compelling the attendance, by subpoena, of all witnesses who were suggested to the Committee as persons likely to have information in the premises, and by considering everything that was furnished the Committee during said hearing.

The petition of the complainants was for the purpose of moving the House to impeach the Honorable John A. Berkey. The power of the House to impeach a judge, and of the Senate to try, is unquestioned as is shown by Article VI, Sections 1, 2, 3 and 4 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which read as follows:

"Section 1. The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment.

"Section 2. All impeachments shall be tried by the Senate; when sitting for that purpose the Senators shall be upon oath or affirmation; no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

"Section 3. The Governor and all other civil officers shall be liable to impeachment for any misdemeanor in office, but judgment in such cases shall not extend further than to removal from office and disqualification to hold any office of trust or profit under this Commonwealth; the person accused, whether convicted or acquitted shall nevertheless be liable to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment according to law.

"Section 4. All officers shall hold their offices on the condition that they behave themselves well while in office, and shall be removed on conviction of misbehavior in office or of any infamous crime." * * *

In this connection there should also be borne in mind the provisions of Section 15 of Article V, reading as follows:

"All judges required to be learned in the law, except the judges of the Supreme Court, shall be elected by the qualified electors of the respective districts over which they are to preside, and shall hold their offices for the period of ten years, if they shall so long behave themselves well;" * * *

As was so well said in the report of the Committee of the House in the matter of the proposed impeachment proceedings of the Honorable Henry A. Fuller (reported in the Journal of the House for the year 1913, at page 6123):

"But the machinery of impeachment cannot be set in motion as a matter of right, and it lies entirely in the discretion of the House itself, having in mind its duties on the one side, to rid the State of unfaithful public servants, and on the other, not to allow its important functions to be disturbed by attending to frivolous requests or its powers perverted to serve partisan or personal spite.

"To prepare itself properly for the decision whether to bring charges of impeachment or not, the House must be in possession of all pertinent information, and it must seek this, as in other matters, through its accustomed organ, a committee. We are then the eye and ear of the House, seeking to absorb everything that could aid a conscientious Legislator in arriving at a just decision upon the question of the propriety of preferring charges of impeachment before the Senate.

"This being so, our functions bear no exact analogy with any other institutions of civil government. We are not a court, for we render no judgment, nor could we enforce one, we are not a grand jury, for we are free to hear defense, nor could our findings if adverse, have necessarily any such effect in setting the wheels of prosecution in motion, as would an indictment. Not being a court, we are not bound by the rules of evidence as applied in judicial proceedings, except so far as such rules assist in bringing out the actual facts. A great body of restrictive rules of evidence which are necessary in a complete system of general jurisprudence, can be dispensed with by a casual body of men seeing to inform themselves about specific matters."

With this exception of our powers and duties we announced a public meeting of our Sub-committee at Harrisburg, and were there attended by some of the complainants and by the respondent. The complainants were represented by Messrs. John S. Geyer and E. F. Kooser. The respondent, who appeared in person, was represented by Messrs. Edward E. Beidleman, Clarence L. Shaver, Joseph Levy, Arthur H. Hull, Thomas Creighton and G. Mason Owlett.

As in the Fuller impeachment proceedings, the Committee did not feel itself bound by the strict rules of evidence in the taking of testimony but gave both complainants and respondent full opportunity to be heard. The testimony presented to the Committee was very voluminous and had to do with many subject matters, all of which testimony is returned herewith and made a part of this report. For the convenience of this Committee we have set forth the facts relative to the several particular matters which appear to us to be most pertinent to the case as gathered from the testimony presented on behalf of both the complainants and the respondent. The Committee has had no difficulty in separating hearsay from actuality and giving him due weight to the evidence properly applicable to the matter under inquiry. There was, from time to time, interjected into the testimony, certain charges and counter charges having to do with local political conditions. Upon a careful review of the evidence adduced, the Committee is satisfied that politics played no real part in this case, the question before this Committee being whether the conduct of Judge Berkey was such as to warrant the bringing of impeachment proceedings against him.

From the evidence produced, your Committee finds the following:

FACTS.

1. Case of Arthur Turrony:

On the 9th day of December, 1922, Arthur Turrony and Thomas Cattoy were arrested on the charge of the violation of the liquor laws.

In order to give bail Arthur Turrony secured from Mark Marcella, a resident of Johnstown, and not of Somerset County, One Thousand ($1,000) Dollars in cash which he deposited with C. J. Newman, Cashier of the Boswell Bank, and thereupon Newmon went on his bail in the sum of $1,000, conditioned for his appearance at the next Court of Quarter Sessions in Somerset County, which would be held in the latter part of January or the beginning of February, 1923.

On the 8th day of January 1923, Arthur Turrony and Mary Turrony, his wife, together with Thomas Cattoy at the solicitation of and accompanied by Victor Durrando, called on Judge Berkey in the Court House at Somerset, where Victor Durrando introduced them to Judge Berkey. After a private conversation between Victor Durrando and Judge Berkey, Judge Berkey asked them if they had any money along. They replied that they did not but informed the Judge that they had One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) bail money deposited with C. J. Newman, the Bank Cashier at Boswell who was on the bond of Arthur Turrony in the liquor case above referred to, and the Judge told them to come back two days later.

On January 9, 1923, the return on these proceedings was filed.

On January 10, 1923, these same parties again went to see Judge Berkey. Victor took Arthur Turrony into a small adjoining room where it was testified he told him that if he would buy some street car bonds the judge would settle the case without paying any expenses. They then came back into the Judge's Chamber and Victor and the Judge again talked aside when Judge Berkey asked Arthur Turrony if he had the money and he told him that he had $500 with him. Arthur Turrony reached in his pocket and got out $500 in cash which he gave Judge Berkey and Judge Berkey handed him a $500 bond of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company. He then went over to the safe again and got a $1,000 bond of the same Company which he handed to Arthur Turrony and said, "I see by your face that you are honest and I will trust you with this $1,000 bond—you can pay me as soon as you can." Judge Berkey then wrote a letter in long hand to C. J. Newman, whom he had been told held the $1,000 as security for the bail and signed it, which letter (Exhibit No. 1, page 13, notes of testimony) is dated January 10, 1923, and reads as follows:

Jan. 10, 1923.

To C. J. Newman,

The case of Comth vs. M. Marcella was brought to my attention today and I find the proceeding was illegal and will not be prosecuted further as the search and seizure was illegal and he is released from the bond—The bond is no longer in force and he is released.

J. A. Berkey,

P. J.

I join with the judge with this letter.

W. Curtis Truxal,

D. A.

Judge Berkey then left his Chamber and went to the office of the District Attorney where he had a conversation with the district attorney about this case, the result of which was that the case would not be prosecuted because the proceedings were defective in relation to the search warrant.

Whereupon the district attorney wrote on the bottom of the letter:

"I join with the judge with this letter.

W. Curtis Truxal," D. A.

Judge Berkey then returned to his Chambers where Arthur Turrony and his wife and Thomas Cattoy were, and handed them this letter, joined in by the district attorney.

Arthur Turrony took this letter to C. J. Newman on January 12th and upon the strength of it Newman handed them the $1,000 which had been deposited as collateral security for the bail. Arthur Turrony then went to Johnstown and deposited this money in the Pennsylvania Trust Company and thereupon wrote a letter (Exhibit No. 3, page 17 Notes) upon the stationery of Marcella, as follows:

Johnstown, Pa., Jan. 12, 1923.

Dear Sir:

Inclose your we fine check for One Thousand Dollars ($1000.00) for my payment in full for my bonds.

Accept my thanks,

And Oblige,
Arthur Turroni.

Judge Berkey received this check and the letter and wrote upon the bottom of the letter in his own hand and returned to Arthur Turrony by mail the following:

"I beg to acknowledge receiving your check for the $1,000 bond, J. & S. Ry. Co.

J. A. Berkey."

The case was not prosecuted. Arthur Turrony was never called in Court and some months later a nol pros was entered in the case.

A short time thereafter, on March 15, 1923, —these defendants were again arrested for the same offense in the United States Court at Pittsburgh. Mrs. Turrony called on Judge Berkey on the following day March 16, 1923, at his Chambers in the Court House at Somerset, Pa., stating that they had bought the bonds from him to settle the case and now they were arrested, and the Judge told her to employ counsel and, she said, promised her to bear all the expenses of defending that case. He suggested Mr. Barnhart, of Johnstown as her attorney. She subsequently requested the Judge to repurchase these bonds and he did repurchase one bond, paying to her $500 in cash.

When in September, 1923, the defendants were advised by Attorney Barnhart that their case was listed for trial in Pittsburgh on September 26, 1924, Mary Turrony went to C. J. Newman, Cashier of the Boswell Bank on September 24, 1924, to obtain the letter which Judge Berkey had written on January 10, 1923, as above noted. When she obtained it she noted that it did not say the case of Turrony but of Marcella. She thereupon went to see Judge Berkey concerning the discrepancy in the name in this letter, but not finding him in went to the district attorney, who examined the records and advised her that the name Marcella, was evidently a mistake, that there was no such a case, but that the case discussed was the case of Arthur Turrony, and then gave her a letter addressed to C. J. Newman, stating this fact, which letter (Exhibit No. 4, page 30 Notes) is as follows:

Sept. 24, 1924.

C. J. Newman, Cashier,
Boswell, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Mrs. Turrony handed me a letter of Judge Berkey's dated January 10th, 1923, in which I joined at the bottom thereof. I find, upon examination of the record, that the judge evidently made a mistake in the name of M. Marcella, where it should have been Arthur Turrony. A. Nol. Pros. was entered in this case and you were relieved from the Bond. The Nol Pros. was entered at the time for the reason that the Court held all search warrants issued on the form of affidavit which was used in that case to be illegal, and all evidence secured thereunder could not be used in the trial of a case.

Your very truly,
W: Curtis Truxal.

Mrs. Turrony testified that after the Judge had repurchased the $300 bond from her, that on several occasions she called on the Judge and requested him also to repurchase the additional $1,000 of bond, stating to the Judge that she was sick and in need of money. These statements were admitted by the Judge. She further testified that on this occasion when she made such a request the Judge said to her that if she found any foreign people in trouble for anything, moonshine, bootlegging, or anything at all, to tell them that they should buy bonds and to bring them to him and he would make them buy and get the money from those people and he would give it to her. That she later took one, John D. Miller, who had been arrested on a liquor charge the latter part of 1923. Miller promised the Judge to buy a bond but after his case was disposed of he did not.

The testimony of Mrs. Mary Turrony as to the facts above set forth was strongly corroborated by the testimony of her husband Arthur Turrony and by the testimony of Thomas Gattoy, as to such matters and conversations as occurred with Judge Berkey at such times as they were present.

2. Case of Nuncio Pacifico:

About the 29th of March, 1921, Pacifico bought from Judge Berkey for $500 in cash, a $500 bond of the railway company. He received $250.00 par value of stock with the bond. About two weeks thereafter he contracted to buy another $500 bond and paid $200 in cash. He is not receive this $500 bond until he pays the balance of $300, which he has not yet paid.

He was arrested on June 13, 1921, on a charge of selling liquor without a license, and on August 29, 1921, he plead guilty before Judge Berkey and was sentenced to a fine of $100 and costs and imprisonment for one year. On the same day the Judge discharged him on probation for a year on the payment of costs and fine.

On October 13, 1921, he was arrested on a charge of the unlawful sale, transportation and possession of alcoholic liquor. On December 13, 1921, he was found guilty and called for sentence on January 9, 1922, when he was sentenced by Judge Berkey in Chambers to pay a fine of $1,000 and costs and undergo imprisonment for a year. On the same day he gave the judgement to the County Commissioners for $1,000 and paid the costs and Judge Berkey discharged him on probation.

On February 2, 1923, he was again arrested on a similar charge and tried on May 15, 1923, and on May 18, he was convicted.

The prosecutor was the County Detective and Judge Berkey left the question of his guilt to the jury, but on July 9, 1923, Judge Berkey arrested the judgment and directed that the County pay the cost, on the ground that the verdict was against the evidence.

Pacifico was again arrested on the 29th day of September, 1923, on a similar charge, and on December 14, 1923, he was tried before Judge Berkey and adjudged not guilty, but pay Sometime shortly before the 1st day of January, 1924, the costs.

County Commissioners had caused an execution to issue for the balance of the $1,000 fine amounting to $250 to $275. Whereupon Pacifico went to see Judge Berkey in his Chambers, asking for relief from the balance due on the $1,000 fine. Judge Berkey sent him to his lawyer, Mr. Boose, and thereafter to Mr. J. S. Miller, the County Solicitor; they all appeared before the Judge, who said that he was not imposing as heavy sentences as formerly, and he thought that the defendant should be relieved from paying the fine, and if the County Commissioners would prepare a petition he would sign it, relieving the defendant from the payment of any further part of the fine. Mr. J. S. Miller testified that as Solicitor for the County Commissioners, he investigated the financial condition of Pacifico, and found that he was in bad financial condition, that he had $800 of bonds of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company paid for and had paid $200 on another bond for $500, all purchased from Judge Berkey; and that Pacifico presented a petition to the County Commissioners asking them to petition Judge Berkey to relieve him from the payment of the balance of the fine, giving as one reason the fact that he owed Judge Berkey $300, being the balance of the $1,000 fine amounting to $250 to 275. has not been pressed.

3. Case of Walter Borderczenski: No. 1

Walter Borderczenski was arrested by Seargeant Cohee, of the State Police on November 22, 1923, on the charge of operating a gambling device and bribery or attempted bribery.

Sergeant Cohee at the trial before Judge Berkey testified that on November 22, 1923, he, together with other members of the State Constabulary, went to the Hotel Seanor, operated by the defendant, on a search for liquor. They did not find any liquor but they found a punch board with its prizes in use to the extent that some of the board had been punched and some of the prizes missing. Walter Borderczenski, the above named defendant, was not there, but his wife was there. The defendant's name was on the door and when he entered he was asked if he was the proprietor. He said yes. The defendant then offered to give the officer $150 in cash to settle the case, and after he had done so the officer asked him what this was for and he said so he would not be arrested and not have to go to Somerset. At the trial before Judge Berkey, Sergeant Cohee was corroborated by another officer. On January 24, 1924, between the time he was arrested and the time he was indicted, Walter Borderczenski gave a check in the amount of $100 to the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company, which check was filled out on its face in the handwriting of Judge Berkey, and bore the indorsement, "Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company by J. A. Berkey, President," and the later indorsement of J. A. Berkey individually, which check was cashed by the Treasurer of Somerset County. Walter Borderczenski stated that he sent this check (Exhibit No. 8, page 214 Notes) to the Judge when he was buying shares of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company.

January 29, 1924, a true bill was found in the above stated case. February 13, 1924, by direction of Judge Berkey, a verdict was rendered of not guilty and prosecutor pay the costs. On the same day Sergeant Cohee turned over to the District Attorney the $150 bribe, and it was turned back to the defendant, Walter Borderczenski on that day.

At the trial, Judge Berkey instructed the jury that inasmuch as there was no evidence that the board had been operated in the presence of the defendant, they should find the defendant not guilty of the charge of operating or maintaining a gambling device. The Judge further charged the jury that inasmuch as the defendant was not guilty of operating a gambling device, he could not be found guilty of bribing or attempting to bribe the officer on a charge connected therewith, and directed his acquittal on the second indictment. The Court then charged the jury on the question of costs in a manner calculated to have the costs imposed upon the Sergeant of the State Police who was the prosecutor. This the jury did.

On February 14, 1924, the day after his acquittal, this defendant gave a check (Exhibit No. 9, page 218 Notes) to the order of John A. Berkey in the amount of $200.00, filled out apparently in the handwriting of Judge Berkey and indorsed by him and deposited in the First National Bank of Somerset on February 17, 1924.

3. Case of Walter Borderczenski: No. 2

On July 4, 1924, the above named defendant and his wife were arrested for violating the liquor law. The defendant entered bail on that day, and on July 7th, the defendant's wife entered bail, both for their appearance at the September court. On July 8, 1924, Walter Borderczenski gave his note to the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company in the amount of $500.00, filled up in the handwriting of Judge Berkey, with a notation that it was in payment of a bond, the note being due in four months (Exhibit No. 10, page 252 Notes). Walter Borderczenski testified he bought the bond from Judge Berkey the day he gave the note. He further testified that he gave the note to the Judge in the Judge's Chambers, while Judge Berkey testified he received it at Walter Borderczenski's hotel. This note was indorsed by Judge Berkey in the name of the Railway Company and negotiated to a bank. On September 6, 1924, Walter and his wife plead guilty and were sentenced to pay the costs, and the balance of the sentence was suspended. Later, the intoxicating liquor seized was publicly destroyed.

Two days after the date of the suspension of sentence, to-wit: on September 8, 1924, Walter Borderczenski gave his check in the amount of $300.00 to the Johnstown Somerset Street Railway Company. The check was in the handwriting of Judge Berkey and indorsed by him (Exhibit No. 12, page 264 Notes).

Shortly after this, on or about November 12 or 14, 1924, Walter went to Judge Berkey's office in the Court House at Somerset, together with one Albina Caoli, who, at that time, bought a bond of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company.

Walter Borderczenski, the above named defendant, admitted on examination by a member of the Committee, that on July 8, 1924, when he purchased the second $500 bond from Judge Berkey, that he was indebted to the Davidsville Bank in the sum of $1,000 and owed Jack Galitski the sum of $2,900, and that an execution had been issued on the latter debt and was then in the hands of the Sheriff of Somerset County, who had levied upon the property of Walter Borkerczenski, who knew of that proceeding and had applied for a loan in one of the banks in Somerset in the sum of $1000 to pay on account of this execution.

The Committee cannot overlook the significance between the relation of the dates of purchases and payments for bonds purchased by Walter Borderczenski from Judge Berkey, to the dates of prosecution and appearance of Walter Borderczenski in the courts over which Judge Berkey presided; nor of the fact that he was heavily pressed by debts when he made some of those purchases and payments.

4. Case of Albina Caoli and Wife:

Albina Caoli testified that on the 11th or 12th day of November, 1924, he went to Somerset in company with Walter Borderckenski, taking with him $200.00 in cash.

They went to see Judge Berkey to buy a bond of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company. When the $200.00 which he took with him exchanged hands, finally coming into the possession of Judge Berkey, he, Albina Caoli, was to get a $500 bond and was to pay $300.00 to Walter.

November 14, 1924, Albina Caoli and his wife were arrested for violating the liquor law and appeared on the 22d day of November, waived the finding of a true bill by the grand Jury and plead guilty. The same day the defendants were directed to pay the costs of prosecution and enter into recognizance for their appearance at the February Sessions, 1925, which they did.

On January 2, 1925, on petition the court ordered the Sheriff of Somerset County to destroy all intoxicating liquor and property seized, which he did. On February 7, 1925, the defendant, Albina Caoli, appeared for sentence. Mrs. Caoli did not appear. The same day, by order of court, case was continued to May Sessions, 1925.

Some time later Albina Caoli gave his wife $100.00 to give to his employer, Mr. Baldwin, to send to Judge Berkey, which Mr. Baldwin deposited in the Davidstown Bank, of which J. E. Williamson is Cashier. At the same time he gave to Mr. Williamson a blank check signed by Albina Caoli and directed him to fill in the check payable to Judge Berkey for the sum of $100.00 and mail the same to the Judge at Somerset, together with a note asking for additional time to pay the balance.

Albina Caoli said he bought the bonds November 11 or 12, 1924, which was two or three days before he was arrested. On cross-examination he said he could not fix the date and that he was only guesing as to the date. Mrs. Caoli testified that she accompanied her husband to Judge Berkey's office the day he purchased the bond, but was not certain whether it was before or after they were arrested.

Mr. Caoli's explanation as to why he purchased the bond was that the street car went by his home and his wife suggested the buy. Mrs. Caoli testified that her husband suggested buying the bond himself. Albina Caoli said he had the still a couple of months before his arrest and that the trolley cars had been running by his door for three or four years. He further testified that Walter had offered him the bond in his house, and they then went to Judge Berkey because he wanted a new bond, but he finally took the one which Walter had and that he did not know what the $200.00 which he gave to Walter was for, but that he was present when Walter gave the $200.00 to the Judge.

Mrs. Caoli testified that she went along with her husband to see Judge Berkey at the time he purchased the bond; that her husband had $200.00 which he gave to Walter and Walter gave to the Judge in the Court House, and that she later gave Mr. Baldwin the $100.00 to send to Judge Berkey.

Mr. J. E. Williamson Cashier of the First National Bank of Davidsville testified that Mr. Baldwin deposited the $100.00 with him, at which time he gave him a blank check signed by Albina Caoli and directed him to fill in the check to Judge Berkey and send the same to him at Somerset and write a note to Judge Berkey asking for additional time to pay the balance and that he did so, and the letter and the check had not been returned. This case has not yet been disposed of.

5. Case of John Sharkey:

On the 12th day of May, 1924, John Sharkey gave to Judge Berkey his check in the amount of $200.00, which was endorsed by the Judge and cashed. (Exhibit No. 25 and No. John26, page 508 Notes). This check was sent by mail by John Sharkey to Judge Berkey came to Winber where John Sharkey kept a hotel and Sharkey paid to Judge Berkey $300.00 in cash. Nothing more was said but Sharkey was to get a $500 bond of the Johnstown & Somerset Sstreet Railway Company, of which Judge Berkey was the President. Judge Berkey later sent the bond to William Boyle delivered the bond to John Sharkey. Sharkey arranged with Judge Berkey for the purchase of this bond about the 7th day of May, 1924, at the suggestion of William Boyle.

The evidence produced and the certified copies of records offered showed that on November 7, 1921, John Sharkey had plead guilty to a charge of the violation of the liquor laws and had been sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution at No. 14 December Sessions 1921. (Exhibit No. 39, page 542 notes).

On November 28, 1923, he again plead guilty to a similar offense whereupon Judge Berkey sentenced him to a fine of $100.00 and costs at No. 39 December Sessions 1923. (Exhibit No. 40, page 542 notes).

A significant fact in connection with the above case is that John Sharkey purchased this bond at the suggestion and through the agency of William Boyle who prior to this time had been arrested four separate occasions for the violation of the liquor laws; had been before Judge Berkey for sentence on three occasions; on two of which he was discharged on payment of costs and on the other occasion on the payment of a fine of $100.00 and costs. On the other occasion William Boyle was discharged on April 4, 1924, for lack of evidence, which was two weeks before he suggested to John Sharkey the purchase of the bond.

6. Case of William Boyle:

William Boyle, who had advised John Sharkey to buy a bond of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company from Judge Berkey, gave Judge Berkey a check on the same date, May 7, 1924, for $100.00, (Exhibit No. 27, page 516 notes), another check on May 28, 1924 for $200.00, (Exhibit No. 31, page 517 notes), another check on June 20, 1924, for $300.00, (Exhibit No. 32, page 517 notes), another check on July 9, 1924 for $100.00 (Exhibit No. 33, page 518 notes), another check on August 28, 1924 for $100.00 (Exhibit No. 34, page 519 notes), making a total of $800.00 paid by check on account of two $500 bonds of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company. Mr. Boyle testified that he paid the balance of $200.00 in cash to Judge Berkey but was unable to give the date of payment.

William Boyle's explanation is that he agreed to buy one of these bonds on November, 1921, but that he had made no payment on it until May, 1924.

It further appears that William Boyle was arrested on four different occasions for violation of the liquor laws, in the first case at No. 50 May Sessions, 1922, (Exhibit No. 37, page 528 notes) he was convicted on May 4, 1922, and sentenced by Judge Berkey to pay the costs. In the second case at No. 113 September Sessions, 1922 (Exhibit No. 36, page 528 notes), the defendant plead guilty and was sentenced to pay the costs. In the third case at No. 41 December Sessions, 1923, (Exhibit No. 38, page 529 notes), the defendant plead guilty and was sentenced to pay the costs and a fine of $100.00. In the fourth case at No. 118 May Sessions, 1924, (Exhibit No. 35, page 527 notes), the defendant, William Boyle, was arrested together with Toney Orlando, his bartender, on April 24, 1924. William Boyle was discharged for lack of evidence, but on May 15, 1924, Toney

Orlando entered a plea of guilty on all charges and on the same day was sentenced to pay the costs and a fine of $100.00.

It is significant that in this case that although the defendant, William Boyle, claims to have agreed to buy these bonds in November, 1921, he made no payment on account for them until May 7, 1924. In the meantime he had been arrested on four separate times for the violation of the liquor laws and at the time the first payment was made on account of said bonds, May 7, 1924, the case against his bartender was still pending and the bartender plead guilty to the charge.

MISBEHAVIOR OF JUDGE BERKEY IN THE SIX PRECEDING CASES.

The purchaser of bonds in each of the six preceding cases at the time which they purchased bonds directly from Judge Berkey, either was, had been, or immediately thereafter became defendant in one or more criminal proceedings in Judge Berkey's Court.

In the Turrony case, at least, the impression was given to the purchaser that his case would be settled in consideration of his purchase of bonds.

In practically all cases the sale of bonds was made by Judge Berkey in his Chambers.

In some cases sales were made between the time the defendant was arrested and the time his case was disposed of.

In other cases purchases were made immediately after the disposition of their cases in Judge Berkey's Court.

In other cases he procured, or at least permitted some of those who were at the time or recently had been defendants in criminal proceedings in his Court, to act as agent for him in the sale of bonds.

Judge Berkey says that it never occurred to him that the sale of bonds to parties litigant was improper. Can you imagine that he was so innocent and so guileless that it never occurred to him that his official position might have effect on these litigants in the purchase of bonds? The effect of these transactions is just the same, and if the Judge so conducts himself or commits acts, even without intent to do wrong, and thereby shakes the public confidence in the judiciary, he ought to be impeached and removed from office.

It is not necessary to determine that the sale of these bonds was a subterfuge under which judicial favor was being bought and sold. It is sufficient if the conduct of the Judge is such as to induce or lead parties litigant to believe that it is to their advantage to have financial transactions with the Judge of the Court.

The persistency with which Judge Berkey sold or endeavored to sell these bonds to individuals having litigation, or likely to have litigation before him, and the circumstances and place of such sales, indicates a well defined plan to use his official position and influence to promote said sales, and in all events the action of Judge Berkey in personally negotiating sales of bonds under the circumstances constituted misbehavior in office.

7. County Treasurer's Check Case:

Prior to October 4, 1921, Judge Berkey had returned an opinion that the County Treasurer of Somerset County was entitled to 2% on all money handled by him instead of 1%, therefore paid. M. M. Shober, an invalid, was County Treasurer, and during his whole term left the administration of his office to a deputy who, during the years of 1920 and 1921, was W. J. Davis. The evidence showing that during these two years the Treasurer himself never signed a check except the one now involved.

On October 4, 1921, a check was drawn payable to the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company for $5,500 in the hand writing of Judge Berkey, signed by Martin M. Shober, Treasurer of Somerset County and indorsed in the handwriting of Judge Berkey—"Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company, J. A. Berkey, Pres." The Deputy, Mr. W. J. Davis, refused to sign this check and M. M. Shober signed it. Upon its delivery Judge Burkey gave a note to M. M. Shober promising to pay in figures $5,500 and on the face $5,000 on demand, signed by Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company by J. A. Berkey, Pres., which not contained also a notation of collateral consisting of $1,000 certificate of deposit and notes of various individuals to Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company, totaling about $10,000. This note and notations were all in the handwriting of Judge Berkey. After January 1, 1922, the County Auditors discovered that the County Treasurer had a shortage of $6,911.75, being the difference between the amount the auditor of the books disclosed of $70,652.01, and the net balance on hand of $63,740.26. This shortage was made up by the payment out of the unearned commissions due the Treasurer for 1922 and a personal check of the Treasury for $1,411.75, the adjustment being made in August, 1922. $1,000 on the principal but no interest has been paid on the note. Substantially everything that was testified in relation to this note is corroborated by Judge Berkey, who testified that he considered it a personal matter between M. M. Shober and himself. W. J. Davis, the Deputy County Treasurer, who refused to make out this particular check, as had been his custom, said that the check used in this case was one of the County Treasurer's official checks and that the money paid on said check was paid out of County money, and that he had charged Mr. Shober with it. Mr. Davis further said that he had kept this particular check in his possession from the time it was cashed until the present time for his protection. He further stated that the loan from Shober to the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company was a personal loan and the note given by the Railway Company was given to M. M. Shober as an individual and not as Treasurer of Somerset County.

We cannot give much credence to the claim of Judge Berkey that he considered this loan a personal transaction between himself and M. M. Shober, due to the fact that when the loan was made he accepted, endorsed and received the proceeds of an official check drawn by M. M. Shober as County Treasurer on the County funds. Nor can such a claim by the Judge overcome the presumption that he well knew such use or disbursement of County funds was not only improper, but unlawful.

The facts and circumstances connected with the above transaction are controlled by Section 62 of the Act of March 31, 1860, P. L. 382, which reads as follows:

"If any officer of this commonwealth, or of any city, borough, county or township thereof, shall loan out, with or without interest, or return therefor, any money or valuable security received by him, or which may be in his possession, or under his control by virtue of his office, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor in office, and on conviction be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, and undergo an imprisonment, by separate or solitary confinement at labor, not exceeding five years, and if still in office, he adjudged thereafter incapable of exercising the same, and the said office shall be forthwith declared vacant by the court passing the sentence."

Section 65 of the same act reads as follows:

"If any state, county, township or municipal officer of this commonwealth, charged with the collection, safe keeping, transfer, or disbursement of public money, shall convert to his own use, in any way whatsoever, or shall use by way of investment in any kind of property or merchandise, any portion of the public money entrusted to him for collection, safe keeping, transfer or disbursement, or shall prove a defaulter, or fail to pay over the same when thereunto legally required by the state, county or township treasurer, or other proper officer or person authorized to demand and receive the same, every such act shall be deemed and adjudged to be an embezzlement of so much of said money as shall be thus taken, converted, invested used or unaccounted for, which is hereby declared a misdemeanor; and every such officer, and every person or persons whomsoever aiding or abetting, or being in any way accessory to said act, and being there of convicted, shall be sentenced to an imprisonment, by separate or solitary confinement at labor, not exceeding five years, and pay a fine equal to the amount of the money embezzled."

We think Judge Berkey's participation in this transaction, under all the circumstances, was not only reprehensible, but also prejudicial to the confidence of the people of Somerset County in their public officials, and constituted misbehavior in office.

8. Case of Peter Hoffman:

In the 1921, a man named Sachs, and another salesman called on Peter Hoffman with a letter signed by Judge Berkey, probably with a facsimile signature, introducing him and stating that he was authorized to handle and receive money from the Railway Company. Hoffman then subscribed for $5,000 of bonds, which carried with it a 50% stock bonus, upon the representation of the salesman that he was only lending his credit to the Judge's Company and that he was to give his two notes for six months, which he was not expected to pay because it was arranged that at the end of that time the Equitable Trust Company of New York would finance them and his bonds would be exchanged for his note, and that he, Peter Hoffman, was to get the stock for lending his credit.

A short time thereafter, another salesman by the name of Cohen, called with a personal letter from the Judge stating that he had chosen Hoffman as one of the directors of the Company, and that in order to qualify it was necessary that he subscribe for an additional $5,000 upon the same arrangement and that it was necessary that he have this additional stock in order to become a director. Mr. Cohen stated that he would bring a written agreement to this effect from the Judge when he delivered the bonds. Although Mr. Hoffman wanted the agreement before, the salesman stated that he could not do this until he had something to show that the bonds were subscribed for. Thereupon, Mr. Hoffman subscribed for the bonds and a few days later the agent left the bonds at Mr. Hoffman's house, telling Mrs. Hoffman that he was not to pay for these bonds and leaving a note asking Mr. Hoffman to care for them until he called for them.

About a week later, Mr. Hoffman met the salesman and asked him for the agreement, when he replied that the Judge was so busy that he could not write it out, but that the Judge knew all about it and invited to call on the Judge when he would give him the agreement. In the meantime, Hoffman had noticed that the notes had been discounted at banks and then he went to see Judge Berkey because he had been told by the agent that the notes would not be discounted but would be kept in the Equitable Trust Company as security until the road was built, when the bonds would be lifted and the notes returned.

Mr. Hoffman met Judge Berkey in his Chambers and informed him of these matters. Judge Berkey said that they would take care of him and would lift the notes for him; that they did not have the money now, but told him that he was to cut the coupons on the bonds and renew the notes and when they came due the second time the Company would lift the notes and release him, and asked him not to make any fuss about it.

Thereafter, the Judge again promised that they would take care of these matters. At one time when a note came due, the Judge and Mr. Hoffman cut the coupons and gave Mr. Hoffman a check for them. Judge Berkey failed to carry out his understanding in this regard.

These notes have been entered by the banks holding them and proceedings to open the judgment are now pending in Somerset County.

It further appears that when the salesmen approached Mr. Hoffman they told him they were the agents of the Equitable Trust Company of New York; that the Judge was in a position to do him considerable favors; and that he had better subscribe.

9. Case of Andrew Goughenour:

In 1921, Andrew Goughenour, a farmer, was approached by a salesman named Lawler to buy some of these bonds. He refused to deal with him stating that he would buy directly of Judge Berkey if he convinced him if it was all right. About a week later, this salesman came with a personal letter from Judge Berkey stating that the man represented him and whatever the agent said was authorized and that he should not be afraid to sign the notes as they would not ask him to pay them, but that they would be taken care of by the Equitable Trust Company. The agent told him that the Trust Company would take the road and pay the claims and they wanted to use the notes as credit. Thereupon he signed for $5,000 of bonds, the agent guaranteeing that he would not have to pay the notes. Goughenour asked for a written agreement to that effect, which the agent wrote out and gave to him.

As soon as the notes were signed, the agent picked up the notes and the letter from Judge Berkey. Mr. Goughenour demanded the letter, but the agent said he could not let him have the letter, that it would be on record at Somerset and that he could see it at any time, but he could not leave it with him.

Some time afterwards, Goughenour went to see Judge Berkey in his Chambers and told him about these circumstances. The Judge expressed surprise that he had an agreement and asked him to show it to him. After the Judge saw it he called his business manager, Mr. Cohen, to come in and they had a consultation. Then Judge Berkey went away and left the business manager to fix the matter up. This business manager named Cohen asked Goughenour to go with him to his office and he would give him a copy of the agreement. Goughenour objected saying that he, Cohen, could have the copy, but he would keep the original. Goughenour went with Cohen to Cohen's office and Cohen gave him a chair and told him to sit down a minute that he was going outside for a minute or two, and he never came back with the agreement. Mr. Goughenour never got his agreement back and some of the notes were later filed and execution asked thereon and placed in the hands of the Sheriff of Somerset County for collection. Mr. Goughenour finally paid all of the notes. Before paying the notes, however, Mr. Goughenour clipped the coupons on the bonds and took them to Judge Berkey and asked him to pay them so that he could apply the proceeds of the coupons on the payment of the notes. The Judge agreed to do so, but never did. During the progress of the purchase of the bonds by Mr. Goughenour, he received a circular letter entitled "The Road to Revenue" which was a prospectus of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company, signed by J. A. Berkey, President, recommending the bonds to the public.

10. Case of James L. Gower:

After a preliminary conversation with a bond salesman on July 28, 1921, James L. Gower wrote a letter to Judge Berkey, (Exhibit No. 53, page 726 Notes) a copy of which he produced wherein he said, "There was a Mr. Lawler called here yesterday, agent for the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company, soliciting credit for the above Company by me giving notes to the amount of $5,000 and in return would receive a bond for that amount and $2,500 common stock of the Company guaranteeing me that, at the end of four months, I could take the bond to you and get my notes saying that you would take the notes to the bank and have them certified and that you would hold the notes yourself and by returning the bond to you I could get the notes without me having to pay.

"Now, Mr. Berkey, is this statement correct, because if I would have to pay the notes, it would be impossible, as I have no way to get that amount of money?

"Anxiously awaiting your reply by return mail, I am, very truly yours, James L. Gower."

Judge Berkey immediately replied on the stationery of the Railway Company, dated July 29, 1921, as follows: (Exhibit No. 54, page 727 Notes.)

"Mr. James L. Gower, Harnedsville, Pa. My dear Mr. Gower: Yours of the 28th received yesterday and I am sending you the bearer of this letter, Mr. C. E. Lohman, as my personal representative to see you in reference thereto.

"The writer was heartily appreciative of your loyal support and cooperation in our railway project, and the company considered it a pleasure to add your name to the Board of Governors. We trust that after your interview with Mr. Lohman, and everything has been explained to you in detail, you will be entirely satisfied with your investment.

"Again thanking you for your loyal support and hoping that you will favor me with a visit when you are again in Somerset, I remain, yours very truly, JOHNSTOWN and SOMERSET RAILWAY COMPANY, by J. A. Berkey, President."

This was the only letter written by Mr. Gower to the Judge on July 28, 1921, or thereabouts. Gower gave notes in the amount of $10,000. In September, 1921, he called on Judge Berkey, who told him that this was an out and out sale. Gower said that was not the way it was represented when the Judge said, "If you get tired of them, sell them to somebody else." Gower told him that Cohen said he would resell $5,000 of them and the Judge said, "Go and bring Mr. Cohen up," He went to Cohen and Cohen said, "I will make that all right with the Judge. You write out an order for the sale of $10,000 bonds," which Gower signed.

Gower subscribed for the bonds upon the statement of Lawler that this was not giving a note which means pay, but they wanted him to lend credit to Judge Berkey for that period to enable him to buy stock so that he could go ahead with the railway, and that in four months the Equitable Trust Company of New York would advance them $500,000 and he could then take his bonds to Somerset and exchange them for his notes which Judge Berkey would keep in his possession, and that they would not be filed against his property. The agent further promised Gower that Gower was to have the $2,500 of stock in the Street Railway Company in consideration of loaning his credit.

11. Case of Charles R. McMillan:

In July, 1921, a salesman called upon Charles R. McMillan to sell him some bonds of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company. Mr. McMillan refused to buy and told him that he had no money to put in bonds. About a week later another agent came to see him with several letters from different people recommending the bonds. He also had a personal letter from Judge Berkey to Mr. McMillan. Mr. McMillan could not produce the letter for the reason that the agent took it away with him at the time, but testified that the Judge stated in the letter, in substance, as follows: that he was sending his personal representative to see Mr. McMillan, that he would gladly call upon him himself but his official duties required that he stay there. That his personal representative would explain to Mr. McMillan how he might purchase those bonds at no serious obligations to himself.

The agent took this letter away with him. This agent explained to Mr. McMillan that he could buy these bonds by giving his notes, which would be taken care of by the Equitable Trust Company of New York and that the notes would never need to be paid, that Judge Berkey wanted to favor his friends in Somerset County by giving them this stock, that is, 50% of the amount of bonds purchased in the common stock, of the Company. Mr. McMillan then subscribed for $5,000 worth of bonds, giving notes therefor, which notes were not to be discounted in any bank, and were promissory notes. Mr. McMillan had received prospectus (Exhibit No. 43) before any agent called upon him and had received circular letters (Exhibits Nos. 44 and 45, page 679 Notes), and that he had also received Exhibit No. 46, being a circular letter from the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company, dated August 10, 1921, the facsimile signature on Exhibits Nos. 43 and 44 being that of Judge Berkey; also form letter of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company, dated September 9, 1921, being Exhibit No. 47, Judge Berkey's signature thereto being identified.

Mr. McMillan later subscribed for an additional $5000 of bonds, but before doing so he had received a letter signed by the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company, bearing also the notation, "J. A. Berkey, Somerset, President Judge of the Sixteenth Judicial District of Pennsylvania", Ex-Bank Commissioner of Pennsylvania, with names of other directors of the Company thereon, stating the authorized capital of the Company to be $1,500,000, Trustee the Equitable Trust Company of New York, and the Executive Office the Vannear Hotel his letter bearing date of September 9, 1921, addressed to Mr. McMillan and marked Exhibit No. 47, page 686 Notes. When Mr. McMillan subscribed for this second $5,000 worth of bonds he gave three notes,—one for $2,500.00 and two for $1,250.00 each. Later he saw Judge Berkey, told him he had subscribed for these bonds on the representations of his agent who had represented that he did not have to pay for the bonds, that the notes were to be held by the Equitable Trust Company or the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company, and that the Equitable Trust Company would take over all of the bonds. Judge Berkey said he was not sure the Equitable Trust Company would take all the bonds, but that made no difference because Mr. McMillan's bonds would be resold and the notes returned and that Judge Berkey guaranteed that this would be done. Mr. McMillan stated to Judge Berkey that he did not have the money to invest in the bonds and was only taking them under those conditions, and Judge Berkey assured him that he did not need to pay for the bonds and that the notes would be returned. Mr. Smucker, Vice-President of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company, came to see Mr. McMillan about the renewal of the notes some six months later, when Mr. McMillan explained to him that the bonds were to be resold or taken over by the Equitable Trust Company and that he had this agreement with Judge Berkey, and objected to renewing the notes. Mr. Smucker insisted upon the renewal of the notes and Mr. McMillan renewed them with the understanding that they were not to be collected or discounted in any bank. Afterwards, however, a note was entered by the Boswell Bank. Mr. McMillan went to Judge Berkey and objected and Judge Berkey promised to have it stricken off the record. Instead of that there was another note put on record.

Prior to the entry of these notes Mr. McMillan, at the instance and request of Judge Berkey and at his dictation, wrote a letter bearing date of July 20, 1922, to the Boswell Bank, which letter (Exhibit No. 48) stated that he, after consultation with Judge Berkey on that date, advised the Bank that it was satisfactory to him for the Bank to discount his note to the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company, as the consideration for which the notes were given was satisfactory to him, at the time of writing of which Judge Berkey promised that he would take care of the Boswell Bank situation before the next due date of the notes, which amounted to $3,750.

Mr. McMillan later saw Judge Berkey, who then promised to pay off these notes at the Boswell Bank by substituting other notes therefor, which, however, he failed to do. Mr. McMillan about April 30, 1923, received an undated letter upon the official stationery of, and signed by, Judge Berkey, requesting Mr. McMillan to date and sign an enclosed renewal note and mail it with his check direct to the Boswell Bank. Later, Mr. McMillan received from Judge Berkey a letter dated November 18, 1923, written on his judicial stationery, stating that he had just learned that the Boswell Bank had ordered the advertising of the real estate of McMillan for sale, indicating that an execution had been issued upon one or both of the notes held against McMillan by the Boswell Bank, and Mr. McMillan testified that Judge Berkey had previously made an arrangement with Mr. Uhl, Attorney for the Bank, whereby Judge Berkey was to pay the Boswell Bank notes off at the rate of $500 per month, which evidently was not done.

Later, Mr. McMillan presented a petition to open Judgment or judgments of $3,750, entered by the Boswell Bank on the $2,500, and $1,250, notes.

The Addison Bank had also entered a judgment against Mr. McMillan on notes for $3,500, given by him in this transaction to the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company and negotiated by it to the Bank. Mr. McMillan also testified that Judge Berkey had returned to him his notes in the amount of $3,750., whereupon Mr. McMillan had returned to Judge Berkey bonds to the amount of $3,500. and had entered by memorandum written by Judge Berkey and signed by Mr. McMillan on another $500 bond, a statement that one-half of that bond belonged to the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company.

12. Case of D. A. Musser:

D. A. Musser, of Berlin, had been canvassed a number of times to buy bonds of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company by a Mr. Feltman, a bond salesman of said Company. Mr. Musser refused to buy. Mr. Feltman recommended them as a good investment and requested Mr. Musser to go and see Judge Berkey, stating that the Judge would explain the matter to him. Later, Judge Berkey came, in company with the salesman, and secured a subscription from Mr. Musser for $5000 of bonds, at which time Mr. Musser gave them three notes,—one for $2,500, and two for $1,250. each. The salesman said, in the presence of Judge Berkey, that if Mr. Musser did not want the bonds they would return the notes, that the Equitable Trust Company of New York would stand good for the notes after the road was built. The agent stated that they would use the $2,500. note soon. Later the $2,500. note was discounted at a bank and demand made upon Mr. Musser for payment. He took the matter up with Judge Berkey and the matter was finally adjusted by Mr. Musser paying the $2,500 note and Judge Berkey returning to him the two $1,250. notes.

The testimony in the above case discloses that the agent who sold the bonds to Mr. Musser stated in the presence of Judge Berkey, that if Mr. Musser did not want the bonds they would return the notes, that the Equitable Trust Company of New York would stand good for the notes after the road was built. This was the main reason why Mr. Musser purchased bonds. Judge Berkey did not challenge or contradict this statement at the time and permitted it to be one of the controlling factors in making Mr. Musser decide to buy bonds. In Judge Berkey's testimony before the Committee he stated that they had no such arrangement with the Trust Company.

13. Case of G. H. Walker:

Mr. G. H. Walker was visited by agents who were selling bonds of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company. When the agents first went to him he told them that he had no money to invest in bonds, that he had payments to make on his farm and would not buy. They advised him that he did not need any money, that all Judge Berkey wanted was his credit. They explained to him that it was all arranged with the Equitable Trust Company of New York to finance the proposition and that they wanted his credit as collateral. Finally, they came back to him on the fifth time and told him they had come direct from Judge Berkey and asked him as a personal favor to the Judge to take the bonds, and thereupon he signed notes in the amount of $5000. They advised him that the notes would be held and that they would all be taken care of and he would never need to pay anything on the notes. He advised them that that was the only way he could do because he had no money to invest.

This was about the 14th day of July 1921. After the agents had left with the notes Mr. Walker became somewhat worried over the matter and about three days later he called on Judge Berkey at his residence in Somerset and advised him of these statements made by the agents regarding the bonds and the arrangements with the Trust Company and told the Judge in detail what the agents had said. The Judge replied "did the salesmen make those statements?" When Mr. Walker said "yes" the Judge said "they were sent to you as our representatives and what they told you is straight and right." This was the conversation between the Judge and Mr. Walker at that time as nearly as Mr. Walker could remember it. Mr. Walker asked the Judge to be relieved from these notes stating that he had no money, when the Judge said that it was not in his power but that he, Mr. Walker, would have to go and see Mr. Cohen, who was the head man of the salesmen. Mr. Walker went to see Mr. Cohen and after waiting at his place of business quite awhile was advised by some of the other salesmen that Mr. Cohen was out of town but would be back later. Mr. Walker waited until 11 o'clock at each night. Mr. Cohen did not return. He then night but failed to see him. The bond salesman had repeatedly told him that the project was backed by the Trust Company and that they would take back the bonds at par.

These bonds were negotiated at the bank and when the interest fell due Mr. Walker went to see Judge Berkey in regard to the matter. The Judge gave him a check for the coupons, which he applied on the payment of the interest. When the interest came due the second time on the notes Mr. Walker clipped the coupons and mailed them to Judge Berkey. The Judge did not remit the interest. Some time later Mr. Walker went to see the Judge in regard to the matter and he seems to have a faint recollection of having received the coupons but did not know where they were. He searched among a bunch of letters on the window-sill and finally found them. He hesitated to pay the coupons but when Mr. Walker stated to him that he needed the money and was up against it and did not know what to do, Judge Berkey finally gave him a check for the interest the second time. This check was not good and in a few days Judge Berkey sent him another check which was drawn on another bank. The next time the interest came due he went to Judge Berkey and tried to get the interest from him but he refused to pay it and said they had no money. He finally asked him if it would be possible to sell one of these bonds and told him that he would sell it at a sacrifice. Judge Berkey asked him what he would take for it. He replied that he would take 50% of the face of the bond. The Judge replied that he would not give $25.00 for a $1000 bond at that time.

History of the Organization, Development and Management of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company:

The Somerset Street Railway Company was incorporated in 1909, and later the name was changed to the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company. Since May 29, 1920, it has been operating about ten miles of track extending from Johnstown to Jerome, and some construction work has been done preparatory to the extension of the line from Jerome to Boswell on the Lincoln Highway near that village, a distance of about five miles. The money expended in the construction and equipment of this road is approximately $533,000. At no time since it began operations in 1920 to the present time has it paid its operating expenses, and in the first four and a half years its cost of operation exceeded its receipts by about $9,000. For the year 1923, the receipts were $31,107.30; for the year 1924, $25,075.75.

Under date of November 9, 1915, the corporation gave a mortgage to the Equitable Trust Company as Trustee, in the sum of $1,500,000, which mortgage is recorded in Somerset County, and the coupon bonds accompanying that mortgage were placed on sale and between that date and April, 1921, the officers of the Company sold from $170,000 to $200,000 of these bonds. Between April and October, 1921, an intensive campaign for the sale of bonds was put on, during which period about $600,000 worth of bonds were sold, and accompanying each bond sold the Company gave 50% in common stock, thereby netting to the Company on said sale 50% of the stock and bonds sold. Since that campaign the officers of the Company have sold between $5,000 and $10,000 face value of bonds. These bonds had defaulted in interest in 1919, and in 1921 the back interest was paid up out of the proceedings of this bond sale, and the bonds have since defaulted in interest for the last several years.

The unsold bonds of the Company amounting to approximately $200,000 are in the possession of Judge Berkley and are kept by him in his judicial chambers in the Somerset County Court House. Judge Berkley has been continuously acted in the administration of its affairs both before and since his elevation to the Bench. For the last four or five years has been, in fact, its Treasurer and financial agent, receiving money, handling the funds through his private accounts, advancing money to the corporation, and reimbursing himself from funds received. Mr. Miller, the Secretary of the Company could give the Committee no definite information as to the affairs of the Company or of the transactions of Judge Berkey with, or in the name of the Company.

At the time the Company increased its Capital Stock and indebtedness, no certificates of such indebtedness were filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth; no returns have been made of stock issued or bonus paid thereon, no capital stock or loans reports have been filed since 1912, and no gross receipt returns have been filed and no taxes have been paid to the Commonwealth. No recent financial statement of the Company was available to the Committee.

Comments on the Conduct in Connection with the Sale of Bonds:

Judge Berkey took office in January, 1920, prior to and at which time he was President of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company. Prior to that time he and his associates had sold about $170,000 to $200,000 of the bonds of the Company. There can be no question but that the judicial position of the Judge was used in presenting the matter to the investors in the bond selling campaign of 1921. In the literature of the railroad this position is well advertised. In addition to that, the Judge used stationery emphasizing his official position as Judge, and was active in writing personal letters on it to prospects in introducing the representatives of the selling agents to the people of his district. In many instances notes were accepted in payment of bonds sold. The subscribers were given to understand, evidently with the knowledge and consent of Judge Berkey, that the notes were not to be paid by them but that the bonds would be redeemed or taken over by the Equitable Trust Company of New York, although no such arrangement had been made with that Company. In other cases the purchasers were informed and led to believe that the transaction was simply a lending of their credit, to Judge Berkey's Company, and that their notes were not to be discounted or filed, but instead thereof were to be placed with the Equitable Trust Company of New York as collateral and would be returned to them later, at which time they were to surrender their bonds to the Company.

The Company has not only defaulted in the payment of the interest on these bonds, but the evidence clearly shows that they have practically no market value, and no value at all as collateral and have recently been sold from eight to twenty-five cents on the dollar. Judge Berkey admits that there is no market value for them but says they have an intrinsic value of about 75 cents on the dollar, based upon the actual money invested in construction and equipping of the road. It must be taken as an indisputable fact that since 1921 these bonds had little, if any, market value and there can therefore be no question but that when these bonds were sold by Judge Berkey since 1921, at par, to parties who were brought into his Court, and to others, he was realizing what he knew at the time to be more than the fair market value of the bonds. The attending circumstances would indicate that the purchasers knew, or must have known, and actually believed that they were buying something more than an investment security. Many of those who purchased bonds were not of the character of persons who would seek such an investment. In many instances they were not financially in position to make investments. Walter Borderczenski had an execution out against him for $2,900, when he bought his last $500 bond. Arthur Turrony borrowed some of the money to buy his bonds. Almost all of the purchasers paid on instalments for their bonds. In one instance the purchaser says that he bought because the street car ran by his door, but it had done so for several years and, according to his testimony, he bought only two days before he was arrested for operating a still. His wife, who was present when he purchased the bonds said she was not certain whether he purchased them before or after he was arrested.

William Boyle, who bought on the instalment plan, says that he promised to buy them in 1921, but he did not begin to make payments until 1924, which was after he had been four times arrested for violation of the liquor laws and his bartender was under indictment at the time for the same offense, he himself having been just discharged.

Many of those who gave notes in the bond selling campaign of 1921 are defending in the local courts of Somerset County on the ground that their notes were obtained through fraud and misrepresentation, in which proceedings Judge Berkey is of necessity a highly interested party and often an important witness.

Although Judge Berkey has continued active in the operation of the Company since he became Judge until the present time and appears to be the controlling factor and probably the sole active officer of the corporation, he has failed to make any reports to the various departments of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or pay any corporation taxes, as required by law, and during that time has been the sole financial agent of the Company, receiving moneys and distributing the same without rendering a financial statement to any one.

The evil of all these cases by Judge Berkey and other violations of the law in connection with the management of said Company does not consist merely in his making a profit by using his official position to effect sales of bonds. That is not the great evil which comes to the people of the community as a result of his conduct. The greatest evil from conduct such as his lies in the fact that it disturbs the public mind and shakes the faith of the people in American institutions; and when the faith of the people in our institutions is shaken it is impossible for them to endure.

As was so well said by Manager Webb in the Robert W. Archbald impeachment case:

"It should be burnt into the minds and hearts and souls of the judges throughout the United States that they should avoid everything that brings disgrace, scandal, and disrepute upon their high office, so that whatever other branches of our Government may at times lose the confidence of any portion of our population, the judiciary may ever stand as an immaculate bulwark against the enemies of a republican form of government. Whenever a judge violates this motto, that very moment the magic of his judicial power is gone, and it loses for itself those princely attributes with which it is by the Constitution invested.

"The moment a high judge dares to use his office directly or remotely for private gain that moment he loses the respect of the community."

We believe that Judge Berkey's persistency in using his official position to influence prospective purchasers of bonds under the circumstances, was reprehensible and constituted a misbehavior in office.

Evidence was introduced before the Committee relative to a number of other cases, which cases standing alone we believe are not sufficient to warrant their consideration as a basis of impeachment charges against Judge Berkey. The cases are those of J. H. Leighty, F. J. Springer, Frank and Victor Armispida, A. Marinella, Ella Bair, H. B. Kline, the Rephorn case, and the case of the appointment of Somerset Trust Company as fiduciary.

LAW

Impeachable Offenses Under the Constitution

It is well established by the authorities that impeachable offenses under our Constitution are not limited to statutory crimes and misdemeanors, or to offenses indictable under the common law and triable in the courts of ordinary jurisdiction.

In his Commentaries on the Constitution, John Randolph Tucker, in Vol. I, Section 200, says:

"To confine impeachable offenses to those which are made crimes or misdemeanors by statute or other specific law would too much constrict the jurisdiction to meet the obvious purpose of the Constitution, which was, by impeachment, to deprive of office those who by any act of omission or commission showed clear and flagrant disqualification to hold it."

George Ticknor Curtis, in his work on the Constitutional History of the United States, Vol. I, pages 481 and 482, says:

"Although an impeachment may involve an inquiry whether a crime against a positive law has been committed, yet it is not necessarily a trial for crime, nor is there any necessity, in the case of crimes committed by public officers, for the institution of any special proceedings for the infliction of the punishment prescribed by the laws, since they, like all other persons, are amenable to the ordinary jurisdiction of the courts of justice in respect of offenses against positive law. The purposes of an impeachment lie wholly beyond the penalties of the statute or the customary law. The object of the proceedings is to ascertain whether cause exists for removing a public officer from office. Such a cause may be found in the fact that either in the discharge of his office, or aside from its functions he has violated a law or committed what is technically denominated a crime. But a cause for removal from office may exist where no offense against positive law has been committed as where the individual has, from immorality or imbecility or mal-administration become unfit to exercise the office. The rules by which an impeachment is to be determined are therefore peculiar and are not fully embraced by those principles or provisions of law which courts of ordinary jurisdiction are required to administer."

In the American & English Encyclopedia of Law, 2d Edition, Vol. XV, pages 1066 and 1068, which is cited in the Archibald case and also in the C. M. Brumm case, it is said:

"That a judge may be impeached not only for crimes for which an indictment may be brought, but grave political offenses, corruption, maladministration, or neglect of duty involving moral turpitude, arbitrary and oppressive conduct, and even gross improprieties, by judges and high officers of State, although such offenses be not of a character to render the offender liable to an indictment either at common law or under the statute."

The above quotations and the procedure in the various impeachment proceedings heretofore held clearly indicates that the term "misdemeanor in office" as used in Article IV, Section 3 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, as applied to the office of judge is meant any such conduct or misbehavior on the part of a judge as would bring disgrace, scandal and disrepute upon his high office, and the moment that he loses the respect of his community by reason of gross improprieties in office he has brought the administration of the law into disrepute and has rendered himself unworthy of retaining the office.

Impeachments Not Confined to Offenses Committed in an Official Capacity:

Black, in his work on Constitutional Law, 2d Edition, pages 121 and 122, says:

"Impeachment is, of course, primarily directed against official misconduct. Any gross malversation in office, whether or not it is a punishable offense at law may be made the ground of an impeachment but the power of impeachment is not restricted to political crimes alone. The Constitution provides that the party convicted upon impeachment shall still remain liable to trial and punishment according to law. From this it is to be inferred that the commission of any crime which is of a grave nature, though it may have nothing to do with the person's official position, except that it shows a character or motives inconsistent with the due administration of his office, would render him liable to impeachment."

From this it would seem that any conduct on the part of a judge which reflects on his integrity as a man or his fitness to perform the judicial functions, is sufficient to sustain his impeachment. It would be monstrous to hold that an impeachable offense must needs be committed in a purely official capacity.

The Tenure of Office of a Judge:

Section 15 of Article V of the Pennsylvania Constitution provides that

"All judges required to be learned in the law, except the judges of the Supreme Court, shall be elected by the qualified electors of the respective districts over which they are to preside, and shall hold their offices for the period of ten years, if they shall so long behave themselves well."

It will be noted that the expression "if they shall so long behave themselves well" is thus made the essential condition on which the tenure to the judicial office rests, and any act committed or omitted by the incumbent in violation of this condition necessarily works a forfeiture of the office. It follows, therefore, that the framers of our Constitution must have intended that judges, who are civil officers should be removable from office by impeachment for misbehavior, which is the antithesis of good behavior.

CONCLUSION

Honorable John A. Berkey, Judge of the Sixteenth Judicial District of Pennsylvania has a constitutional right to hold said office for a period of ten years beginning January 1, 1920, "if he shall so long behave himself well."

By incorporating this last clause in the Constitution, its framers no doubt sought to protect the people against malfeasance of unjust and corrupt judges. They therefore limited the tenure of office to such time as they "behave themselves well" and provided the remedy for misbehavior to be forfeiture of office and the removal therefrom by impeachment.

The conduct of Judge Berkey has not measured up to those high standards of judicial ethics and propriety that should and generally does characterize the judiciary, but on the contrary has been improper and reprehensible. By his conduct as outlined in the foregoing report, he has forfeited the condition upon which he held his commission, has been guilty of misdemeanors in office, and we recommend that he be impeached and that articles, based upon the foregoing findings, be prepared.

Respectfully submitted,

Dated, March 17, 1925

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker and the members of the House, the motion that has been presented at this time to adopt the majority report of the committee appointed to investigate and inquire into the official conduct of John A. Berkey, Judge of Somerset County, is before you for consideration. The report that you have been asked to vote upon and adopt provides that the proceedings that have been pending in this House for some weeks be dismissed. As Chairman of the sub-committee that heard all this testimony, I ask you to vote against this motion. It is unfortunate in a way, ladies and gentlemen, that every member of this House could not have been present and heard the testimony offered to the subcommittee appointed to take this testimony and report its findings and its recommendations. This inquiry had its inception in several petitions signed by many citizens of Somerset County, between 1,000 and 1,500 people, representing every class, profession, trade and occupation in that great county. They came here seeking relief from a condition that exists there that is most unfortunate. They came here in the form of a petition, which is the only way in which they can bring their matter to your attention, and this honorable body is the only place under the shining sun where these people can come for relief because it is so provided in our Constitution.

In order that you may understand the sentiment in that county and the things that they asked for, I want to read to you, if you will bear with me, one of the petitions that I have already referred to. The petition reads as follows:

"To the Honorable, the Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania:

"The representation and petition of the undersigned, inhabitants in, and citizens of, the County of Somerset, constituting the XVI Judicial District of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, respectfully represents:

"That although we are sensible of the great difficulty of the situation of a Judge, and the delicacy with which his character and conduct ought to be considered or concerning which complaint should be made; yet for a considerable time unfavorable impressions, insinuations, criticisms and charges have been circulated in this judicial district and in the neighborhood, and the matters are so circumstantially rumored and evidenced, and all concerning John A. Berkey, President Judge of the Courts of said judicial district, as to bring the administration of justice in the said district into disrepute."

Ladies and gentlemen, this matter that you have before you is one of the most important things that you will have to pass upon this session. A few of the members who had this job thrust upon them have had a very unpleasant and very nerve-trying task to perform. We have spent several days in the performance of that duty, and I am going to ask you to indulge me for the time I take tonight to inform you people of the matter you are going to vote on; and in that connection let me say that I hold no brief for anyone, neither Judge Berkey or any of these citizens of that district who have come here for redress; I hold no brief for anyone, but it is an important thing, and I ask you to do, as we have done, consider this carefully and vote upon it as your consciences dictate.

To continue with their petition, that states further:

"Your petitioners believe that under these circumstances it has become necessary, equally for his credit, and for the safety of the people, that these matters should receive examination; and that this can be done only under an authority which has the power to call witnesses and collect the testimony. This authority is lodged in your House in which the Constitution vests the right of impeaching or demanding the removal of judicial officers.

"It is charged, averred, rumored and reported that he, the said John A. Berkey, has been guilty of conduct unbecoming an upright Judge, in that, among other things, he has since the beginning of his term of office, some four years since, been actively engaged in promoting, organizing and operating a certain corporation, known as the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company, a Pennsylvania corporation organized for the building of a street railway in the said Somerset County. The project is considered one of doubtful feasibility and profit, and the securities issued or attempted to be issued of extremely doubtful value. Yet still he has used his position as President Judge of the Courts of the said District and his office, prestige, name, credit, and office facilities as said Judge in persuading, cajoling, coercing and requiring citizens of the said district, some of whom have litigation in the said courts or are likely to have, to purchase said bonds and securities of him or his associates or for his benefits, to their great loss and damage.

"And furthermore it is reported, rumored, represented and discussed throughout the district that certain defendants in criminal proceedings, before trial or during trial or after conviction, have been known to deal with him, the said John A. Berkey, by the payments of large or small sums of money by check, by cash, or otherwise, directly and indirectly, sometimes by way of subterfuge in the purchase of securities, and sometimes otherwise, but as a consequence of which these said defendants or certain of them, or some of them, have secured judgments or decrees of court, modification of sentence, parole or other favors and advantages, which those not so dealing are accustomed to receive or have afforded them in the said courts.

"These matters are the subject of popular discussion, daily becoming more open, and are the matters of comment on the pulpit, in the public press, and are generally in public speech. Accompanying these discussions are related details as to checks, notes and other evidence of such financial transactions, reported by eye witnesses and by photographic and other copies of such.

"All these matters have brought the administration of the law in this judicial district into popular disrepute.

"We therefore most respectfully petition and solicit that you appoint a committee of your Honorable body or other fit person or persons to investigate these matters, who may take the facts as they may be found into consideration, and report to you that you may proceed accordingly, and that it may be determined that, if these reports are unfounded, the good name and character of the said Judge may be vindicated or, if it appear that these facts or certain of them are well founded, then that proper action may be taken for the vindication of the law, and the restoration of public confidence in the Courts."

That, ladies and gentlemen, is the petition that has been filed here, signed by between 1,000 and 1,500 representative people of Somerset county. As a result of these petitions, a resolution was presented in this House providing that the Judiciary General Committee investigate these matters and make their appropriate recommendations to this House. That resolution further provided that the Judiciary General Committee should appoint a sub-committee, if deemed advisable, to take this testimony. By virtue of this authority, the Judiciary General Committee appointed a sub-committee of seven of its members, of which I was named chairman. This sub-committee spent a large part of four days and nights taking the testimony in this case. Witnesses were heard on both sides. There was no limit put upon the parties interested in the presentation of testimony. After the testimony had all been taken, which comprised some fourteen hundred pages, members of the committee spent a large part of four days and nights, after the testimony was all in, to digest it and prepare a report which consisted of almost fifty typewritten pages. This report was unanimously concurred in by five of the seven members of that sub-committee. Two of the members chose to file a minority report. When this minority report was presented to the Judiciary General, for some reason or other—I am unable to tell you—they adopted the minority report, and that is the report that is brought to you tonight and you are asked to vote upon and adopt that which dismisses these entire proceedings, washes the slate clean, and dismisses it from your calendar and allows these conditions to exist and continue as they have been. After hearing the testimony, as the Chairman of this sub-committee, in behalf of myself and in behalf of the other members of this committee, after hearing every item of testimony presented in this case, and after spending four days and nights, largely, digesting and making up this report we have submitted to you tonight, ladies and gentlemen, I cannot sit idly by and not inform the members of this House as to what you are voting upon and as to what it means to the people of this district of Somerset county and to the people of this Commonwealth if you quash these proceedings instituted in this House.

The report that we filed, ladies and gentlemen, as I said, consisted of almost fifty typewritten pages. In that report, we digested thirteen specific cases, recited the fact as supported by testimony on both sides of this case, and in that report or digesting of those cases, we pointed out to the Judiciary General Committee the different situations in which Judge Berkey had conducted himself improperly and had been guilty of misdemeanor in office, which rendered him subject to impeachment. I say we digested thirteen cases in full, but notwithstanding that, the committee, for some reason or other, which I think I can give you a little insight into a little later, choose to adopt this Minority Report. In that report, we divided those cases into three sub-heads: The first six of those cases we digested were cases where the Judge had dealings with criminals who were in his court—he dealt with them either just after they had been there, while they were there, or immediately after they left. In some of the cases, he dealt with them under two of the cases, while the cases were pending, immediately upon them coming in or next day after they left. These dealings, ladies and gentlemen, had to do with the sale of bonds of what is known as the Johnstown and Somerset Street Railway Company. This railway company was a pet project of Judge Berkey, started several years before he went on the bench, in 1915. At that time the capital stock of that company was about $66,000. It was raised to one and a half million dollars, and at the same time indebtedness of one and a half million dollars was floated in the form of bonds. Between the time it was issued and the time that Judge Berkey went on the bench, he and his associates sold about a hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars of these bonds to people in Somerset county and vicinity. After Judge Berkey went on the bench June 1, 1920—and during the year of 1921, he secured a man by the name of Cohen: He proceeded to sell those bonds throughout the county, and on that sale he was to get 25% of all money received, and in addition thereto, every man buying a bond was to get 50% of the same amount in stock. During about four months time, with the assistance of Judge Berkey and his associates, he unloaded about $630,000 of those bonds on the people of Somerset county, and the testimony showed, and Judge Berkey admitted on the stand—that at least half and possibly more than half of that amount was sold to foreigners in Somerset county. The testimony was that many of those people were either in court there before, at the time, or immediately after the bonds were sold.

I wish to call your attention to a few of these cases that were especially digested by this committee. In reciting the testimony and these facts in reference to these cases, I want to say it is the digested facts as gleaned from the testimony on both sides, as agreed upon by the committee of five who digested this testimony and reported to the Judiciary General Committee. The first case we have is known as the Turrone case. In this particular case a man by the name of Arthur Turrone and a man by the name of James Cattoy were arrested for violating the liquor law. I wish you would note the dates of these various events. They were arrested December 9, 1922. A few days after they were arrested, it was testified to that a communication was sent to this man Turrone by a man by the name of Victor Durando, stating that he was a good friend of Judge Berkey, that if Mr. Turrone would come to see him, he could get his case settled. He did not go in a few days, and later he got a second message. In response to the second message, he and his wife and the other defendant went and communicated with this Victor Durando, and they discussed the matter. That was on the Sabbath day. On the following Monday, January 8th, they went to Somerset and saw Judge Berkey in his private office. It was testified to that at that hearing, this emissary, Victor Durando, had a private conversation with the Judge, and later came out and invited these people in, and after they had some conversation together, the Judge asked Turrone if he had any money with him. He replied that he did not. At that time the Judge was informed that they had a thousand dollars' bail in the Boswell bank, that they had deposited there as security when the cashier of the bank went on their bond for their appearance at the next term of court. The Judge told them to go home and come back on Wednesday, that was the 10th of January, 1923. On the 10th of January they went back, and after a short conversation the Judge sold Turrone a $500 bond and received $500 in cash. After the sale of this bond, the Judge remarked to these people that he could see that they were honest people, and he said he was going to give them another $1,000 bond and they could send the money to him when it was convenient, or bring it in a few days. At the same time, the Judge wrote a letter to the cashier of the Boswell bank, and directed to Mr. Newman, and advised him that the case was discontinued because of a defect in the search warrant, and for that reason he was relieved from his bond, and that he should surrender the $1,000 to Mr. Turrone. As a result of this, Mr. Turrone took this letter to the bank, and on January 12th he received from the cashier the $1,000 in cash. He took it down to Johnstown and deposited it in the Pennsylvania Trust Company and sent the Judge a check for $1,000. The letter accompanying this check reads as follows, and I ask you to especially note the contents of it. It is dated January 12, 1923.

"Dear Sir: Inclose your we fine check for One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) for my payment in full for my bonds."

Notice the last seven words, "for my payment in full for my bonds." Judge Berkey, in response to that, denies the testimony of Mrs. Turrone and Mr. Turrone and Mr. Cattoy that there was anything said in his office about this bond, that he never knew that Mr. Turrone wanted to buy a $1,000 bond until he received that check and that letter. I submit to the members of this House that the context of that letter in itself shows that those bonds were delivered before that $1,000 was received. He says, "Inclosure is $1,000 check for my payment in full for my bonds." Judge Berkey says further that when he received that check, he folded a bond up in an envelope and mailed it to Arthur Turrone. At the same time he put this indorsement on the bottom of the letter:

"I beg to acknowledge receiving your check for the $1,000 bond J & S Ry Co." I ask you members of this House since it is disputed which report should be adopted, I ask the members of this House, does not this letter and indorsement written upon that letter by Judge Berkey and sent back by Arthur Turrone corroborate Arthur Turrone and his wife and the man who was his co-defendant. I ask you in fairness if that testimony of Judge Berkey is true. In the first place why didn't Arthur Turrone say, "I have decided to buy a bond and sent you a check for $1,000. Please mail it to me?" He didn't do that, and granting that Arthur Turrone's part of the letter was poor, that nothing had been said to the Judge prior to that time. Would he not have said in his reply, "I received your check for $1,000 in payment for a bond and am mailing it to you under separate cover." He didn't say that. He said, "I beg to acknowledge receipt of your check for bond." He didn't mention mailing it to him. Granting that the foreigner did not put his letter up in a good business way I submit that Judge Berkey never would have sent a letter like that if he had been mailing a bond in another envelope. The testimony of those people in regard to receiving this check for money in the Boswell bank is corroborated by Mr. Newman, the cashier of that bank. Mrs. Turrone later testified that her husband was arrested on the 15th of March of last year by a United States marshal for the same offense, that on the following day she went to Judge Berkey's private office in the courthouse and said to him that her understanding was that this case was settled, because she testified before that when they paid the Judge the money, he said, "You can go home, I will take care of this case, and you will not hear anything more of it." I want to call your attention to another matter: That letter was written by Judge Berkey to the cashier of this bank on the 10th day of January, 1923, on Wednesday. They had called on him the Monday before that, and this report was never made to the Court of Quarter Sessions of Somerset County from the Justice of the Peace until January 9th, the day before they came back. There is no evidence that the judge ever saw this report before he had signed that letter telling them that he would take care of the case, which he later did, and later on the case was nolle prossed, and never brought to prosecution. After the defendant was arrested in the United States court, Mrs. Turrone went to Judge Berkey and complained about it: he suggested that she get a lawyer and he suggested Mr. Barnhart's name, of Johnstown. She saw Mr. Barnhart and employed him and the case dragged on for some months and finally in some mysterious way it dropped out of the Federal Court and she did not know what was done with it. In the meantime, she complained to the Judge about the extra expense connected with the additional prosecution and said she needed money, she was hard pressed because of sickness and this additional expense of prosecution. The Judge took one of the bonds back and gave her back $500, but he kept the $1,000 for the $1,000 bond that they had bought.

In this connection, at this point, I want to call your attention to another feature of this case. Those bonds, ladies and gentlemen, it was in testimony by any number of people of Somerset county that they were selling in the market from eight cents to twenty-five cents on the dollar, which means that when he took $1,000 from these people for this bond, he was taking $1,000 and giving them something that on the market they could not unload or sell for more than one hundred to two hundred and fifty dollars. It was testified to here by many people in Somerset county that the banks absolutely refused to accept these bonds for collateral under any circumstances. Notwithstanding these facts, Judge Berkey deals with a defendant in a criminal action while a case is pending in his court and sells him something for four or five or six times what it is worth, at more than what he knows it is worth, and then discontinues the case, a criminal case that never comes to trial. I ask you men and women, is it any wonder that the people of Somerset county come here to this House, the only place under God's shining sun that they can come to redress the evils of this kind, and are you going to be a party to whitewashing anything of this kind?

Let me call your attention to another matter. We have another case here known as the Walter Bordeczewski.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker, as far as I understand, there is nothing before the House but the report of the Judiciary General Committee. The gentleman from Beaver is speaking in regard to the testimony which he reads. I think that is out of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order if he speaks on the question. The gentleman will confine himself to the motion.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I think I am talking on it as nearly as I can, because the disposition of this motion has to do with the testimony offered, and the only way we can get that to you is to call your attention to the facts as we have them set forth in our report. I want to call your attention to one case known as the Walter Bordeczewski case. In this particular case, I want you to notice particularly the sequence of these dates. On November 22, 1923, this defendant was arrested for maintaining a gambling device and for attempted bribery. The testimony in this case showed, and it was not contradicted, that on this night some State Police arrested this defendant at his house. They found a gambling device there, and they arrested him and he gave the State Constabulary $150 so, as he stated, he would not have to go to Somerset. On January 24, 1924, Walter, the Defendant, went to Judge Berkey's private chamber in the courthouse and gave him a check for $100 in part payment of a $500 bond of this railway company. On January 29, five days later, a true bill was found; two weeks later, on February 13th, a verdict of not guilty was found by the jury under the direct and express directions of Judge Berkey. On the following day, the testimony showed and it was not denied by Judge Berkey, that this defendant appeared in his office, in his private chambers in the courthouse, and gave him a check for $200. The next day after he was dismissed on the express direction of the Judge. On the 17th of the same month, three or four days later, the Judge indorsed this check at a bank and received the money. About three months later, July 4, 1924, this same defendant was arrested again. Four days later he went to Judge Berkey's office and gave him a note for $500. The note was in payment of another $500 bond. On September 6th the defendant entered a plea of guilty, and on September 8th the same day, he entered a plea, the Judge dismissed him on payment of costs. Two days later he appeared in the Judge's chamber and gave him another check for $300. A few weeks later, the testimony showed that this same defendant comes back in Judge Berkey's office again with a man by the name of Albino Caoli, acting as agent for Judge Berkey in the sale of bonds. In this particular case they tried to show that the bond was not sold by Judge Berkey. All the testimony in the case showed that three hundred dollars changed hands, and all went to Judge Berkey. The last one hundred dollars sent to Judge Berkey was accompanied by a note from this defendant asking that he be given additional time. We have several of these cases, one is the case of William Boyle, who was arrested and brought before Judge Berkey on four separate occasions for violation of the liquor law, and either plead guilty or convicted in these of the four cases, and the fourth case dismissed because there was not sufficient evidence, and during the time that he was dismissed or at the time his bartender was under indictment, and before the bartender's case was disposed of, we have this defendant in Judge Berkey's private office buying more bonds, at the time not worth more than eight to twenty five cents on the dollar, and yet he was paying one hundred per cent cash. In connection with the sale of the bonds to this man Walter, a very peculiar situation developed there, he bought those bonds when the sheriff had entered execution against him for $2900 and there was also a judgment against him in the hands of the bank of $1,000. The sheriff levied on his property, and it was about to be sold, and he went to the bank and borrowed enough money to get that writ stayed, but notwithstanding that situation he goes to Judge Berkey's office and buys a five hundred dollar bond, and pays the Judge a large payment on account. In this connection I want to read the summary and findings of the majority of this committee on this particular case. I cannot express it to you any better than they have done in their report. The committee consisting of five of the seven members say that "The purchaser of bonds in each of the six preceding cases at the time at which they purchased bonds directly from Judge Berkey, either was, had been, or immediately thereafter became defendant in one or more criminal proceedings in Judge Berkey's Court.

"In the Turrny case, at least, the impression was given to the purchaser that his case would be settled in consideration of his purchase of bonds.

"In practically all cases the sale of bonds was made by Judge Berkey in his chambers.

"In some cases sales were made between the time the defendant was arrested and the time his case was disposed of."

In other cases the defendants were permitted to act as agents for Judge Berkey in the sale of these bonds, while their cases or other cases were pending in his court. The Committee says:

"The persistency with which Judge Berkey sold or endeavored to sell these bonds to individuals having litigation, or likely to have litigation before him, and the circumstances and place of such sales, indicates a well defined plan to use his official position and influence to promote said sales, and in all events the action of Judge Berkey in personally negotiating sales of bonds under the circumstances constituted misbehavior in office."

I want to call your attention to another class of cases in which Judge Berkey, while acting as judge of the County borrowed $5500 from the County Treasurer of Somerset

County in direct violation of the criminal code of 1860. I want to read you one section of this report—

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker, I must insist on my point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. I state again the gentleman is not speaking on the report brought before us by the Judiciary Committee. He is reading evidence produced there, which I think has nothing at all to do with it.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine himself to the motion before the House.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, I am speaking of the testimony that forms the basis of this report. The report filed here tonight is a finding on the basis of all testimony offered. I am speaking of the testimony and think I am perfectly in order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed but confine himself as much as possible to the motion before the House.

Mr. MARSHALL. Section 65 of the Act of 1860, P. L. 382, provides as follows:

"If any state, county, township or municipal officer of this commonwealth, charged with the collection, safe keeping, transfer, or disbursement of public money, shall convert to his own use, in any way whatsoever, or shall use by way of investment in any kind of property or merchandise, any portion of the public money entrusted to him for collection, safe keeping, transfer or disbursement, or shall prove a defaulter, or fail to pay over the same when thereunto legally required by the state, county or township treasurer, or other proper officer or person authorized to demand and receive the same, every such act shall be deemed and adjudged to be an embezzlement of so much of said money as shall be thus taken, converted, invested, used or unaccounted for, which is hereby declared a misdemeanor; and every such officer, and every person or persons whomsoever aiding or abetting, or being in any way accessory to said act, and being thereof convicted, shall be sentenced to an imprisonment, by separate or solitary confinement at labor, not exceeding five years, and to pay a fine equal to the amount of the money embezzled."

Notwithstanding Judge Berkey's position as Judge of Somerset County he went to the County Treasurer and negotiated a loan of $5500 from this treasurer. The check for this money was issued on the county treasurer's account; it was an official county treasurer's check; it was signed by the county treasurer, M. M. Shober, as county treasurer. It was signed by him, after the deputy, who had been deputy for two years and had signed every check written during that period because the treasurer was an invalid and was not taking care of the office. It was signed after the deputy treasurer had refused absolutely to have anything to do with the loan. When he refused to execute the check Judge Berkey wrote out the check and the invalid treasurer signed it, and the Judge as president of the Somerset Railway Company endorsed that check and received the money. He received the money because the officers of the company testified, in their own testimony, that at this time they had no treasurer and had no treasurer since that time and Judge Berkey was acting as treasurer.

I call your attention to, and I am going to summarize the other seven cases under one head. They are cases where the Judge and his associates sold bonds to farmers throughout Somerset County. They sold them under the pretext of false representation. Some of that was made in the presence of Judge Berkey and others were made by his express agents, and made in response to personal letters signed by him, that any one that bought bonds and gave their notes, that the notes would not be cashed or discounted but turned over to the Equitable Trust Company of New York to be held as collateral, that in no case were they to be cashed. This statement was untrue, the Equitable Trust Company had no agreement to underwrite this financing, and as a result of this false representation many farmers in Somerset County bought bonds, they were willing to give their notes. The notes were discounted and filed, and some of those farmers have lost their farms because of judicial proceedings instituted on those notes.

Those are the conditions, ladies and gentlemen, existing out there in Somerset County for several years. They have come to you, asking redress. Under the situation, as I have said, this is the only place they can come to get that redress. Article six, section four, of the Constitution, says that all officers of the Commonwealth shall hold their office on the condition that they behave themselves well while in office, and shall be removed on conviction of misbehavior in office or of any infamous crime.

Now, in conclusion, ladies and gentlemen, let me say this and then I am through: The Committee that filed a majority report in this Committee did so after a careful digest of all the testimony offered. They did it after due consideration of the testimony on both sides. They studied all the exhibits. They filed a report in which five of them were unanimous in deciding that the testimony warranted it. In filing that report we recommended to the majority of this House that they adopt and recommend it to this House and let this proceedings be threshed out, and if Judge Berkey is guilty of the charges brought against him give him a chance, give his friends a chance, to clear this man's name. All the things that have been brought out and have been published and broadcast throughout the State, if you whitewash this report of this minority of the Judiciary General Committee, this is the majority report of all the men who heard this testimony, you are not giving Judge Berkey, you are not giving his friends a chance to vindicate themselves before a proper tribunal. The men who heard this testimony say that the testimony warrants impeachment. If you refuse to adopt that report and adopt the reports that is presented to you at this time you are whitewashing this whole proceeding, you are leaving that cloud hang over Somerset County, you are leaving those people without the relief that they have asked. They have not only asked that he be either impeached but that something be cleared and his name vindicated. If you whitewash you are not vindicating him, you are leaving the same situation exist only much worse than it was when these people came before you. If you vote this report down and adopt this minority report as we ask you to do, then you are giving a chance to thresh this thing out before the members of this House and determine what should be done, and if anything further should be done then let us as men and women face our duty. Let us not step aside from under responsibilities that are not ours because of our choosing but because the Constitution, the fundamental law of this Commonwealth, says that we shall assume that responsibility, that we shall consider this thing in an honest way and make a report to the House and after that report is made let the provisions of the Constitution be carried out in a regular and orderly way. I therefore ask you to vote this motion down.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I will take just five minutes of your time to give you certain reasons why you should vote against this motion to adopt the report of the majority of the Judiciary General Committee as reported out. In olden days they said Caesar's wife must be above suspicion, and in these days right now, March 30, 1925, the bench in every county in Pennsylvania must be above suspicion. What are you doing tonight by your vote to determine whether upon the report as it has come to you from the majority committee you are going to say that this is our standard of judges in Pennsylvania. Don't try it in Somerset County, try it in your own counties, and if that is what you believe the bench should be then vote "aye" on this motion. Don't forget in reading the Constitution of our State that the House merely impeaches; the House merely prefer charges. We do not try. Judge Berkey is not on trial before us tonight. If we prefer these charges, if we vote down this report and accept in lieu thereof the minority report of the Judiciary General, we simply send word to the Senate, to a board or a committee of managers of the members of this House that we think this Judge ought to stand trial over there. Now, let us see what this means. If you vote "aye" here is what you are in favor of: You are in favor of a Judge on the bench, in a company of which he is the one man, a company where in the absence of a treasurer he handles the cash, a company where for five years he has kept the bonds in his own safe in his own office in chambers where justice is supposed to be dispensed and not bonds sold at par of an insolvent company to ignorant miners and others who are litigants before that Judge. There is only one Judge in that county; he is the whole thing, the chief cook and bottle washer, and every thing from a judicial standpoint. Are you in favor of a corporation practically a one man corporation run this way by a judge on the bench? The company fails to file its reports, it is subject to a fine, the officers are subject to conviction of misdemeanor under the laws of the State. They increased their stock, they never made any report to the Commonwealth and they never paid any bonus to the Commonwealth. They have gross receipts as a common carrier of practically thirty thousand dollars a year for the last two years. Did they pay eight mills on the gross receipts that you and your predecessors in this and other legislatures have said they shall pay? They did not even file reports. That is the way the thing was run. A man comes before the judge for sentence, his acquittal is directed: The next day he calls back and uses two hundred dollars, one hundred and fifty dollars of which was turned back to him the day before under the order of the court and the district attorney, and he uses one hundred and fifty dollars of that two hundred dollars to pay further on account, and a few months later he is arrested again and he comes back before the same judge. If that is your idea of justice in Somerset County, try it in your own county. If that is what you think your judges ought to be, then I say vote "Aye" on the resolution and put that as the stamp of your approval on the code of ethics as the standard of justice in our counties throughout the State. I promised you I would take five minutes and I have taken but four. I ask you to impeach this man, vote down this resolution and send the charges to the Senate and we won't be here a day longer. If you do this thing tonight the managers of the House can go to the Senate tomorrow, the charges can be preferred at once, the testimony has been once heard and can be heard again. Let this thing go on, this is merely in the nature of a grand jury and this is only a prima facie case. If you don't think there is a prima facie case here, then I don't know what a grand jury would do, members of the House, vote "No" on this resolution.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, after listening to my friend from Montgomery as to his reason for impeaching the Judge of Somerset County, I still cannot see why he is so anxious to have him impeached. He puts it first on the principle of some irregularity, and then most of his time is taken up with an impeachment of a Judge because he happens to be an officer in a corporation that does not make its report to the State as the law requires. Well I knew that the Judges were held to a pretty strict accountability, but I never knew before that they were held to that strict accountability. If they are then I think we had better start in and impeach all the Judges in Pennsylvania because there are a great many more of them who have transgressed far more than that. Now, the gentleman from Beaver with all the enthusiasm of an advocate with all the enthusiasm of a district attorney in a criminal charge could not have put any more venom, any more personal ambition, any more personal work than he has to-night trying to impeach and convict this man of something. Now, this minority report that we have heard of so much here to-night: when I received it, I took it home with me and as I told the gentlemen the next day after I had read it, it reminded me of a plaintiff's paper book in an appellate court because it gave but one side of the case and did not mention a word about the defendant's evidence from one end to the other. We had to read the minority report to find out there was any defense at all. The minority report from beginning to end sets forth a few cases,—four or five cases,—which the gentleman from Beaver has recited here to-night, but he did not recite nor did he tell you that there were five or six men brought before Judge Berkey and sentenced to a term of years and are serving that term of years to-day who have asked for a parole and cannot get it, and each and every one of them own a thousand dollar bond or a five hundred dollar bond. There is not a scintilla of evidence in this case from beginning to end of the fact that the purchasing of these bonds made one iota of difference as far as their sentence was concerned, as far as their treatment was concerned. Let us see what the situation is here. As you heard here to-night, here was a railway company and Judge Berkey was the promoter of that company; he and a number of his friends up there promoted that company. I don't know anything about it, whether it is likely to be a good company or not, but the Johnstown Railroad Company came before the committee and, according to the evidence here, they seemed to think pretty well of it because at one time they wanted to buy it but Judge Berkey refused to sell it unless they would guarantee the payment of these bonds. That does not seem like a bad thing for a judge to do, to protect the bondholders and stockholders of that company as he was doing. What is the result? As I said before, he promoted that company before he became judge. After he was on the bench the company did get down in bad straits evidently, and Judge Berkey was working day and night endeavoring to put it on a proper paying basis. There is nothing wrong about that. I can remember reading history some years ago when the great Jay Cooke was promoting the Northern Pacific Railroad and the people of the country said it was a bad failure. Because of those statements there was a great panic throughout this country, but did Jay Cooke lay down? No, he went into his office rolled up his sleeves and put that great railroad in the condition it is to-day. There is no discredit to Judge Berkey in trying to make this a proper railroad and unless there is something in this evidence that shows to me, and I have failed to find it in any way here, that any money was paid to Judge Berkey in payment of the bonds at any solicitation of his or any mention on the part of Judge Berkey that he would lighten their sentence or relieve them of imprisonment or anything of that kind, I cannot see that he is guilty of anything. Nothing like this came from him; it all came from outsiders who said to the people "If you come before Judge Berkey and buy a bond you will be released", but as I understand it there are five or six people, as I have recited, who are serving terms to-day, and he has not relieved any of them, who bought either a thousand dollar or five hundred dollar bond and they are still serving their sentence. They have asked for a parole, but he has refused to grant that parole. Now, I don't want to take up any more of your time. There is evidently something wrong in Somerset County; there is evidently a political feud up there and they have brought that feud to the House, and they have asked us to help them wash their dirty linen. This is what it means to the House at the present time; this hearing with testimony taken that had nothing to do with this case, and I heard a good bit of it perhaps on both sides, has cost this State $7,000 up to the present time and yet one of your committee for some reason or another desires to have that voluminous report spread upon the journal here. For what purpose? For nothing whatever. It doesn't do either the Courts of Somerset County or the Courts of Allegheny County or the public or anybody else any good to read over a lot of this stuff which is absolutely, as I said before, a political feud or something in Somerset County and I don't propose to help them wash their dirty linen. Let them take it back home and if they want to arrest Judge Berkey for anything proper let them arrest him and convict him, and upon conviction of any offense in office he immediately surrenders his office. Let them go back home and try the case with their friends there, with the men in their own district who know the circumstances,—you have heard something about them,—and if they cannot convict him in his own home with the people who know him and know him best, then they should not come down here among strangers and ask us to convict this man sixty-one years of age at the present time. Let us start from that point. Here is a man sixty-one years of age who, up to this time, has lived a life that all of us would be proud of. Yes, he was at one time an honored official of this Commonwealth, and there was not a word or a blot against him until some time after he was elected judge and then someone started in to get square with him because he beat the other fellow for an office and, by the way, the man who was back of the private counsel in this case was the fellow that he beat for office, and now he is trying to get square with him and he wants you and I to help him wash their dirty linen. I say that this Commonwealth has now spent $7,000 too much. Let them take it back home and try it there. For my part, I do not propose, upon testimony of this kind, to take the reputation of this man who has lived for sixty-one years and blow it to the winds by a jealous feud that is being worked out in that county at the present time. Mr. Speaker, if there is anything in this world that is dear to any man it is his reputation, and when a man has lived for sixty-one years and has gotten such a reputation, I say to you stop, look and listen before you snatch it away from him without any more evidence than we have here.

Mr. HAAS. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that this thing can be figured out very easily and clearly. A sub-committee of seven men was appointed to take this testimony. Five men voted to bring impeachment proceedings. These five men, as you possibly know, were Mr. Marshall, Mr. Moffatt, Mr. Ludlow, Mr. Bidelsbacher and Mr. Stadlander. I would take the word of these five men after listening to this testimony, and I believe that this House should take the word of these five men. Mr. Ludlow said that Caesar's wife must be above suspicion; the Republican party must also be above suspicion. When this sub-committee reported to the general committee, the information was spread around—I heard it here in the House—that this man evidently was guilty but he was a good Republican and we should whitewash him. That is a terrible indictment to bring on the head of the Republican party of this State, and I tell you if you want to see this thing through to the finish, bring these proceedings to the Senate and let the Senate try him, in the name of decency and in the name of the Republican party of this State.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House: As a member of the sub-committee that took the testimony, I probably am more familiar with the facts than most of you members. You have been asked by the gentleman from Beaver and the gentleman from Montgomery to sit as a grand jury. Now what is the purpose of a grand jury? It is that you sit and listen to the testimony, separate the unimportant from the important, the wheat from the chaff, and if the man is innocent to say so but if the man is guilty to prefer charges against him. Now, you are asked to prefer charges against this Judge on the statement of a few of us. There was a committee of seven appointed to take the testimony; two reports were presented to the Judiciary General Committee. Our friend from Lehigh tells you that five men authorized the impeachment or recommended the impeachment, but he failed to tell you that after a consideration of both of these reports seventeen men on the Judiciary General Committee said that the impeachment proceedings ought to be dismissed. What happened? This sub-committee took the testimony and two reports were offered to your general committee. After a full and complete consideration of these two reports, there was a vote of your committee. That committee has reported back to you, and that is the report we are asked to adopt tonight, and that report says that after a consideration of the testimony the committee finds no impeachable charges, and, therefore, recommend that the proceedings be dismissed. Now you are asked to throw aside the report of your committee and prefer charges against an undoubtedly reputable member of the bench. What is the history of this case? This is a matter that occurred in a county where the facts are very well known; nothing was done in secret. The gentleman from Beaver referred to communications that were signed by a Judge. The facts were well known to the community at large, and yet what happened? We have the fact that at the time of the election of this Judge to the bench, four years ago. Judge Berkey was the president of this traction company; that fact was known. Bonds were sold by him; that fact was known. What happened? There were five candidates for election and Judge Berkey was the victorious candidate with over 51 per cent of the vote, and one of these defeated candidates was the chief mover in this prosecution, Mr. Ernest O. Kooser. He sat there before our sub-committee, he marshalled the evidence, and he, through Mr. Geyer, presented it. Mr. Kooser sent blanket letters throughout the county seeking information against this Judge. Why, why should you and I defer to the machinations of Mr. Kooser? He was the defeated candidate for the Bench, running against Judge Berkey, and with the same facts known in Somerset County at the time of the election, he comes to this House and asks that we impeach him. He says the inhabitants of Somerset County did not know what they were doing when they elected this man, and he asks you to negative the action of fifty-one per cent of the residents of Somerset County.

With what do they charge him? They charge him first with with leniency to litigants after they had purchased bonds. Now I challenge any of you to recall one word from either the gentleman from Beaver or the gentleman from Montgomery as to what the testimony was in defense of that charge. They tell you of five or six cases where bonds were purchased by litigants who came before the Judge received suspension of sentence or fines on liquor charges. That word "liquor" might recall something to your minds, and that is, in no county in Pennsylvania can a judge give absolute satisfaction in his method of handling liquor violations. If he is too severe he is criticised by one side; if he is too lenient, he is criticised by the other side; there is no middle ground. But in recalling the testimony there was not one word said to you by either of these gentlemen, of the five or six or seven cases that were presented before the committee; not one word was said in contradiction of the statement that men who were the holders of bonds, and litigants before the judge, went to jail for liquor violations and are presently serving their terms in Somerset County. Not one word of that was said to you. Reference was made by Mr. Marshall to the Turrony case. In their report, and in his presentation of that report on the floor of this House, not one word was said to you that three or four reputable witnesses appeared and negatived the entire Turrony case. The District Attorney testified before us; the attorney representing the Turrony testified before us and the Judge testified before us, and not one word was said to you of the contradiction of the charges.

Why all this zealotry on the part of these gentlemen on the subcommittee? Why do they want to negative the action of the general committee? I do not allege any unfair play; I do not allege any unfair play, I leave that to your own imagination, but I say to this House that you haven't any right, with a wave of the hand, to tear down the life workings of a man unless you have before you specific testimony which would warrant you to say to your own conscience that this man is not fit to grace the judiciary. Do you think that? The Judiciary General Committee thought that there were no impeachable charges and they said so. You have been told that we will whitewash these proceedings and that will be the end of it. The gentleman who made that statement evidently has not prepared his law on impeachment. Their entire report was based on the federal law governing impeachment. The federal law says—and this is Article 2, section 3—"The President, Vice-President and all civil officers of the United States shall be removed from office on impeachment for and conviction of treason, bribery or other high crimes and misdemeanors." That is the only statement in the Constitution of the United States as to impeachment. What have we here in Pennsylvania? We have two classes of impeachment. The first says that "The Governor and all other civil officers shall be liable to impeachment for any misdemeanor in office but judgment in such cases shall not extend further than to removal from office and disqualification to hold any office of trust or profit under this Commonwealth; the person accused, whether convicted or acquitted, shall nevertheless be liable to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment according to law". Notice that it says "Misdemeanor in office", and it follows that up by pointing out that he "Shall be liable to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment according to law". Therefore, what they do must constitute a criminal offense punishable by indictment according to law. This is very interesting, and it is section 15 of article 5. The article as quoted by the sub-committee paper book is not quoted in its entirety, but it leaves out the most important matter in that section. This section says "All judges required to be learned in the law, except the judges of the Supreme Court, shall be elected by the qualified electors of the respective districts over which they are to preside, and shall hold their offices for the period of ten years, if they shall so long behave themselves well; but for any reasonable cause, which shall not be sufficient ground for impeachment, the Governor may remove any of them on the address of two-thirds of each House of the General Assembly. The section as quoted in their paper book ends with the clause, "If they shall so long behave themselves well", but this section goes on and says "But for any reasonable cause which shall not be sufficient ground for impeachment, the Governor may remove any of them on the address of two-thirds of each House of the General Assembly." Now, gentlemen, you are asked here to impeach a Judge; you are told that it is the only thing that can be done. I am calling this to your attention to show you that at any time a charge is made against a Judge which does not rise to the dignity of an impeachable offense, the Governor may remove that Judge on the address of two-thirds of the members of each House. If the members of this House should be convinced that this man, this Judge, has been guilty of an offense in which the facts do not raise the crime to a misdemeanor, then that Judge can be removed on the address of two-thirds of the members of each House. In addition to that, and I hope I am not burdening you, in addition to setting forth that this Judge gave favors to litigants, the Judge was also attempted to be crucified because he would not appoint a certain trust company as guardian. Now you are asked to say whether a judge has or has not the right to refuse to appoint any particular company or companies as fiduciaries. You do not know anything about the companies; you do not know anything of the facts that ran in the Judge's mind at the time of the application. As a matter of fact, the Judge said that he did on occasions refuse to appoint this particular company because he had received complaints from the members of the bar of Somerset County, and residents of that county in general, that that company charged excessive fees and when they wanted to see the officers of this company they could not be found. Shall we say here that a Judge shall have no discretion in his appointments? In effect, you are being asked that we say so. They have also charged him with the grave offense of taking a loan on behalf of this company from a man who was county treasurer. They neglected to say that at the time the loan was made, securities in the sum of $11,000 were given for the loan of $5500 and it was generally admitted before this committee that these securities were good. Testimony was also presented to the effect that this county treasurer mixed his personal funds with the county treasurer's funds. There is no law relating to the county of Somerset which prevents the mixture of the funds of the county with those of the county treasurer. We have evidence that this county treasurer paid personal bills out of this fund, deposited personal money in this fund, and it was further presented at the time of the loan that the county treasurer had about $13,000 or $14,000 due him from the county. At the time he granted this loan to the Somerset Traction Company in the sum of $5500 the county treasurer had $13,000 or $14,000 due him from the county, and he took in his individual capacity collateral security in the sum of $11,000. Shall we impeach a Judge for that? Now, Mr. Speaker, enough of the dirty linen. You have the fact of who was behind this prosecution; you have the fact that all these matters were known to the inhabitants of Somerset County at the time the Judge received the endorsement against four other candidates of over fifty-one per cent of the vote of the county; you have the fact that this persecution, for such it is, was marshalled by one of these defeated candidates; you have the further fact that with all this testimony before them, with these two reports, your committee, which has been referred to as the eyes and ears of the House, after that investigation and full consideration says to this House that it finds nothing in the testimony to warrant impeachment charges, and then you are asked by these gentlemen to say, "We don't care what our committee has found; they are wrong, even though we don't know the facts." Mr. Speaker and members of the House this motion should prevail in all fairness to yourselves.

Mr. LUCAS. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following: Messrs. Drinkhouse, Hess, Bromley, Fratt, Drinkhouse, Dilsheimer, Lafferty, Haws, Metzinger, Sterling, Posey, Eraley, Eaches, McLaughlin, Colville, Deibler, Huber, Harding, and others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question,

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

The Speaker announced the "ayes" appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for and one hundred and twenty-four members, or more than a majority of the House having voted in the affirmative, the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the majority report of the Judiciary General Committee?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Edmonds and Mr. Ludlow and were as follows:

YEAS—110.
